

HUGHES EXPRESSES BELIEF HE WILL WIN

Outlines "Essential Conditions of National Leadership"

Nominee Asserts He is "Looking Forward to the Responsibilities of Administration"—Has No Apologies for Attacks on Administration's Foreign Policy.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Charles E. Hughes, speaking here tonight, expressed belief he would win the electoral votes of Ohio, Indiana and New York and asserting that he was "looking forward to the responsibilities of administration," outlined what he regarded "the essential conditions of national leadership."

Audience Waits Three Hours.

Mr. Hughes addressed an audience that had waited nearly three hours to hear him. He was introduced by William Barnes, former Republican state chairman. The nominee in previous speeches today had declared he had no apologies to make for his attacks on the administration for its foreign policy, had characterized as very cruel and unwarrantable, the suggestion that a vote for him meant a vote for war.

"The executive is the guardian of the national honor," Mr. Hughes declared. "He has a very wide discretion in the management of our foreign relations. He has his own judgment almost exclusively as his guide and he is not supposed to exercise that judgment except in conformity to the well established principles of international law. It is not a whimsy he should consider—it is not a loose generality, a conceived service to humanity that should engage his attention. It is his duty to have his country adopt and follow correct principles of international action recognized by the nations of the world, and thus maintain the respect to which we are entitled and giving us an opportunity to have a growing interest thru that esteem by which indeed we can maintain our rights and in the end truly serve humanity."

Replies to Statement of Wilson.

Mr. Hughes replied to a statement in a recent speech of President Wilson's as follows: "It is not that we should be truculent, it is not that we should go about with any arrogant assertion of power, it is not that we should engage in bluster. I like the phrase 'the peace of a gentleman' but of the peace of a gentleman unafraid, alert in his self respect and getting his rights, quietly and calmly, ready to maintain them. That is the peace of a gentleman."

In his speech here tonight as in other speeches during the day, Mr. Hughes declared that there never has been a time, perhaps in our history, when it was easier to keep the nation out of war than during the past few years when every nation engaged in the great strife abroad desired our friendship and would not by reason of any assertion of our rights forfeit that friendship."

The nominee was an hour late in reaching Albany. His address here was further delayed by a street parade many blocks long which he headed. On his way to the hall the nominee was cheered by crowds on the sidewalks.

Introducing Mr. Hughes, Chairman Barnes said:

"There is one quality the people demand in a man who would hold high office. In his responsibility to the great people he owes the obligation that his deeds should conform with his words. That the American people have not now, but will have in Mr. Hughes."

"I come to you after days of a very remarkable experience in the states of Ohio and Indiana. Mr. Hughes said: 'I suppose that no candidate for presidency ever received a more generous greeting than I received in these states. It demonstrated the interest that is felt by the people of this country in the issues of the campaign; and as I believe put beyond question the victory of the national ticket in both Ohio and Indiana as well as in New York.'

"We are now looking forward to the responsibilities of administration and I desire to speak to you with respect to what I regard the essential conditions of national leadership to be."

"The executive is intended to be a leader; but his leadership has primarily to do with the performance of certain constitutional duties of the gravest importance to the people. He is not chosen to follow the whims of his fancy or to indulge in a license of freedom to follow his own personal choices in any direction to which his imagination might lead him. He is the executive under our constitution charged with the duty of managing the great business affairs of the United States. His first duty is to give to the country an efficient administration of the public business. It is perfectly idle for us to expect in the trying days to which undoubtedly we shall be called in the coming years, the prosperity which we desire to enjoy unless we have in this country exhibited, as indeed are exhibited in many countries abroad, the highest standards of administrative work in our public service. The executive should surround himself in the various departments of public work with the very ablest talent at his command. He should never permit diplomatic agencies, for example the organization of our great state department and the representation of the nation in all its international relations, to be subordinated to a narrow conception of supposed partisan exigency. America should stand in her diplomacy with a high prestige won and maintained by the character and special ability of the men who represent her in the councils of the nations in our international affairs."

ROOSEVELT ASKS SUPPORT OF HUGHES

Colonel Goes to Toledo to "Give the Reasons for the Faith That Is in Him."

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in a speech in Memorial hall here today told a large crowd that he came here to "give the reasons for the faith that is in him." He asked support of Charles E. Hughes for president and aid in making the congress and senate of the United States such as will back him up.

"I am here in no partisan sense," declared the speaker. "I am appealing to all good citizens to save the country from ruin."

"I believe in certain reforms," he said, "but before we can work reforms within the nation we have got to be sure that we have got a nation."

"There is another principle that we can not too jealously guard and that is that we see to it that our public servants must what they say and keep their promises after election. We must protect ourselves from men who say one thing at one time and another thing at another time, and do none of these things none of the time."

"President Wilson has exemplified switching facilities," declared Colonel Roosevelt. "The first duty of any government is to protect the lives of its people. Mr. Wilson has said that he is too proud to fight. I see the other day by a Wilson paper that he has said that there may be circumstances under which he might fight and the things he is willing to fight for."

"Mr. Wilson says he is going to do some fine things in the future. Do it now, Mr. Wilson, or keep still."

INVITE CLYNE TO ATTEND MEETING

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—After hearing charged by Alderman Pretzel today that there were 37,300,000 dozen eggs in Chicago in cold storage at present while the price is 45 cents a dozen, the council health commission invited United States District Attorney Clyne to attend the next meeting of the commission, at which an effort will be made to show collusion on the part of middlemen and producers to control the price of foodstuffs.

Henry D. Coghlan, a Michigan farmer, testified that half a dozen Chicago operators control egg prices thru the Middle West. He said, contending that it was not profitable for farmers to ship direct.

PROSECUTE UNLICENSED DENTISTS

Chicago, Nov. 2.—The Illinois attorney general's office, assisted by the Chicago Dental society, today entered upon a vigorous prosecution of unlicensed dentists in Chicago following the arrest yesterday of four men. Warrants for three others, including a young woman, were to be served today. Richard H. Colby, assistant attorney general, is in charge of the prosecution.

DEUTSCHLAND WILL NOT CARRY U. S. MAILS

Dr. Ahrens, Attache of German Embassy, Makes Statement

U. S. Naval Officers Satisfied Submarine is a Commercial Ship—Stevedores Wheel Out Hundreds of Small Boxes.

New London, Conn., Nov. 2.—United States mails will not be permitted to occupy valuable cargo space aboard the German merchant submarine Deutschland on the return trip to Germany, according to Dr. George Ahrens, attache of the German embassy at Washington.

Speads Considerable Time Aboard. Dr. Ahrens who spent considerable time today aboard the underwater craft with Captain Koenig, replied to a query as to whether the Deutschland would carry United States mail back to Germany with another question why should she carry United States mail over. He asked "if the United States can't get mail to Germany it is time to stop."

Officials of the Eastern Forwarding company said it was unlikely any mail would be sent by the submarine, except official communications from Count von Bernstorff to the emperor.

Commander David Boyd and Commander Yates Stirling, of the United States submarine base here inspected the Deutschland today and said they were satisfied she was a commercial ship.

An official of the Eastern Forwarding company ridiculed the suggestion that the Deutschland will act as a "mother ship" to furnish supplies to German armed submarines.

He stated emphatically that the Deutschland was built solely for commercial trade and from the country. This official added that there were only two German commercial submarines, the other being the Bremen, given up for lost.

Lost Only Twenty Submarines. Concerning reports that numerous German submarines had been caught in nets or sunk, the officials declared that since the outbreak of the war Germany has lost only twenty submarines, including the Bremen.

It became known tonight that when the German submarine Freighter Deutschland approached New London harbor about midnight Tuesday the United States dredger Atlantic narrowly escaped running her down, according to the Atlantic skipper, due to a mistake in reading the code signal lights. The dredger, which was off Eastern Point, made out the lights of the submersible coming nearly head-on. The Atlantic kept on its course, expecting the Deutschland to steer outside when she did not the Atlantic swerved to one side and slowed her engines down passing the Deutschland with about one hundred yards to spare.

Begin Unloading Cargo. The manifest of the Deutschland's cargo was filed at the custom house here late today and it will not be made public for some time, officials of the Eastern Forwarding company said. Unloading began this afternoon, one hundred selected negro stevedores wheeling out hundreds of small boxes and piling them in the warehouses on the wharf. Eighty of the freight handlers came here from Baltimore where they helped discharge the boats' cargo after her maiden trip. The boxes were of various sizes, the smallest being a cubic foot and the largest, eight and ten cubic feet. The cargo proper, exclusive of the precious stones, is said to be worth one and one half million dollars.

REPORT WINTER WHEAT IN GOOD CONDITION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 2.—"Winter wheat is in good condition generally, but some correspondents state that the growth is short," according to the monthly crop report for October, issued by Clarence J. Root, section director today. The report continues: "Corn husking is under way in all sections. The crop is below normal in quantity and the quality is fair. Some corn is reported soft. Pastures are good in the northern counties and meadows generally. Potatoes have been dug but the crop is poor."

ENGLAND WILL TURN DIVERS OVER TO CHILE

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 2.—The British government, it is announced, will turn over to Chile five American built submarines as compensation on account of the delay in the delivery of dreadnaughts which were contracted for in England by Chile.

The battleships Almirante Latorre and Almirante Cochrane, which were laid down prior to 1914 in British yards for Chile, were taken over by the British government because of the war. Submarines constructed in the United States for Great Britain were refused delivery by the American government until after the end of the war.

CHAVEZ KNOCKS HAMANN OUT

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 2.—Benito Chavez of Trinidad, Colo., knocked out Freddie Hamann of San Francisco, in the tenth round of a scheduled twelve round match here tonight. Both are featherweights. Chavez floored the referee with an accident as he was about to deliver a blow to the jaw as he was being pried out of a clinch in the ninth round. The official was dazed but continued in the ring.

SAYLOR DISQUALIFIED

Toledo, O., Nov. 2.—Milburn Saylor of Indianapolis, was disqualified in the eighth round of his scheduled twelve round fight with Jimmy Duffy of New York here tonight for failure to obey commands of the referee to break clear in the clinch.

SETS CROSS-COUNTRY NON-STOP RECORD

Carlstrom Flies From Chicago to Erie, Pa., a Distance of 480 Miles, in 257 1/2 minutes.

New York, Nov. 2.—Victor Carlstrom, flying in the New York Times mail-carrying airplane, failed today in his attempt to fly from Chicago to New York without a stop, but established a new American cross-country non-stop record when he flew from Chicago to Erie, Pa., a distance of 480 miles, in 257 1/2 minutes. Carlstrom also broke the speed record for distance flying, his average time being about 112 miles an hour. A defective joint in the gasoline feed connection forced the aviator to descend at Erie for repairs and a fresh supply. After resuming flight, he found it impossible to reach New York before night and came down at Hammondsport, making a total of about 635 miles. He expects to complete his journey tomorrow morning. Carlstrom started from Chicago at 7:09 1/2 a. m. Eastern time. Then observers stationed along the route, one after another in rapid succession, reported him over Blue Island and Harvey, Ill., and Hammond, Ind. Fourteen minutes after he started he passed Gary, Ind. Sweeping swiftly over Hobart, Chesterton, Laporte, North Liberty, Millersburg, Ind., and Wauseon, Ohio he reached Hammondsport, 38 minutes ahead of his schedule. After passing Oak Harbor, Ohio, Carlstrom drove for the shore of Lake Erie, passing south to Port Clinton. He skirted Sandusky to the south and then passed over Huron. He flew over Vermilion at 10 a. m., Eastern time, and Lorain 10 minutes later. Then came Geneva, the last place in Ohio to witness the flight. Once across the Pennsylvania line, he passed over North Star and then swept on to Erie. He got away from there at 2:30 p. m., after landing at 11:24 a. m. He was sighted over Bath, N. Y., at 4:07 a. m. and descended at Hammondsport at 4:24. He expected to resume his trip to New York at 6 a. m. tomorrow and complete the flight three hours later.

AMERICAN AVIATION CORPS MAY LOSE TITLE

Protest to State Department States Name is Not Compatible With American Neutrality.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The famous American aviation corps of the French army probably soon will lose officially its distinctive title as a result of a protest to the state department that use of the name is not compatible with American neutrality. There will be no formal exchanges on the subject but the state department will suggest informally to the French foreign office that mention of the American corps in official communications places this country in an embarrassing position.

The corps made up of a large number of young American aviators, was recruited and organized as a separate unit by special permission of the French military authorities. Its members have distinguished themselves time and again, particularly in the fighting around Verdun. Precedent for action was set early in the war, when at the informal request of the Washington government Great Britain had the name American legion, withdrawn from a Canadian contingent that was being recruited from the United States.

TWO BURGLARS SHOOT MOWEAQUA MARSHAL

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 2.—James Stringer, night marshal at Moweaqua was shot early today while in the office of Mayor Clarence Hamill. Stringer makes his headquarters at the mayor's office and made his midnight round and returned when he surprised two burglars who had gained entrance thru a rear window. Stringer received a bullet wound thru the hip and the men escaped before he could render the fire. Both wore handkerchiefs over their faces. It is thought they were about to attempt to blow the safe.

BENSON PREDICTS INTENSE SUFFERING

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Nov. 2.—Alban Benson, Socialist candidate for president, in an address here tonight, predicted intense suffering and even starvation this winter unless the government "forces food speculators to surrender their grip on the nation's food supply."

"It is estimated that we produced 619,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. We need 630,000,000 bushels to feed our own people. Yet speculators and hoarders already have sold 400,000,000 bushels of the crop under contract for export to other countries. As the cost of necessities of life advance, wages do not advance in proportion and we find the scale of living of the workingman of our country becoming lower as the prosperity of the favored class mounts higher."

MUST COVER MEXICAN INTERNAL AFFAIRS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 2.—The next result of the nine weeks of conference of the Mexican-American joint commission which adjourned today over the election until November 10, is that the Mexican commissioners have learned that any agreement by the commission must cover not only the policing of the frontier, but Mexican internal affairs, it was learned today. The Americans have made it plain to the Mexicans that before General Pershing's troops are withdrawn, Mexico must demonstrate that the presence of American troops along the border or even in Mexico is unnecessary to prevent raids by bandits.

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF AMERICANS AT PARRAL

Town is Reported to Have Been Taken By Villa Troops

Nine Americans Known to Be in City—Bandits Assault German Because They Thought He was an American.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 2.—American mining men who have interests in Parral reported from Chihuahua City to have been taken by Villa troops on Tuesday, are much concerned over the fate of nine Americans known to be in Parral. This concern was increased tonight by the news from Chihuahua City that the bandits who held up the Mexican Central passenger train Monday evening at Laguna station, assaulted Dr. Steven Hafner, German subject because they thought he was an American. This they say, is an indication of what may happen to the nine Americans in the Parral mining district.

Mining men and ore freighters here who are thoroughly familiar with the country in the vicinity of Parral say Villa probably moved on Parral from Santa Rosalia, following the Conchos river to Pilar de Concha, a distance of 45 miles from Santa Rosalia, and then marched south 45 miles against Parral, entering the town from the north, which is the most accessible way, they say.

These mining men declare the report of Villa's capture of the town verifies the report that Villa and his command had been in possession of Santa Rosalia as it was announced he would move on Parral from Santa Rosalia.

Villa is said to have a grudge against General Luis Herrero, the Carranza commander in Parral, and to have declared that when he captured Parral he intended to kill Herrero with his own hands. The reports of Villa's capture of Parral was received here by government agents tonight and forwarded to Washington.

EXPECT EVIDENCE LATE NEXT WEEK

Lansing States Week May Elapse Before Full Evidence Concerning Marina Case Will Be at Hand.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Conclusive evidence as to whether Germany violated her pledges to the United States in the sinking, apparently without warning, of the British freighter Marina with the loss of six American lives, is not expected by the state department before the latter part of next week.

Secretary Lansing before leaving tonight for his home at Watertown, N. Y., to stay until after the election Tuesday, said information was coming in slowly and that at least a week was expected to elapse before full evidence would be at hand.

Even the all information desired from British sources and American survivors of the Marina were at hand, any action by the United States government would be delayed pending Germany's reply to the informal request for her version of the incident. In previous instances where such a request has been made a week or more has elapsed before the attacking submarine has come in and several days further have been needed to collect and transmit the information.

Secretary Lansing made a statement today explaining that the state department held that Germany's pledges not to sink merchant ships without proper provision for the safety of persons on board, applied to merchantmen armed for defense as well as to unarmed vessels. Germany's latest specific war on armed ships, however, was the memorandum announced last week that the fact that the Marina carried a 4.7 inch gun is expected to play a conspicuous part in the exchanges that will follow if it is established that she was attacked without warning.

AUTO BANDITS ROB BRAIDWOOD BANK

BRAIDWOOD, Ill., Nov. 2.—Automobile bandits, operating so quietly that the village watchman was not disturbed in his sleep, entered the private bank of W. H. Odell and Company here last night after cutting all telegraph and telephone wires, blew open the safe and escaped with $6,000.

Emma Hines, living across the street from the bank, apparently was the only one who heard the explosion which wrecked the bank vault. She looked from her window just in time to see four robbers enter an automobile and drive away.

SHOWS SINKING DUE TO EXTERNAL CAUSE

Athens, Wednesday, Nov. 1.—Via London, Nov. 3.—Delayed.—The French admiralty has issued a communication saying the investigation shows that the sinking of the Greek steamer Angeliki was due to an external cause, a mine or submarine, which, owing to the measures taken by the entente allies, can not have been of origin than German or Germany's allies. The communication says the investigation into the sinking of the Kiki Isasas also not completed gives evidences for a similar conclusion.

WILL LOWER RATES

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 2.—Gas and electric rates in Decatur and Macon county will be lowered in accordance with an order of the Illinois Public Utilities commission, made public today, permitting the Decatur Railway & Light company to put into effect a new rate schedule. The schedule provides for gas at $1 per thousand cubic feet and electricity at 10 cents per kilowatt hour.

War News Summarized

Closes Campaign Except for Speech Saturday

Executive Reiterates His Conception of the Great Issues Which Confront the United States—Appeals for Principles of Progress.

New York, Nov. 2.—(With two great rallies here tonight President Wilson closed his campaign for reelection except for a speech he will deliver to New Jersey friends and neighbors at Shadow Lawn Saturday afternoon. From the time he arrived in the city this morning he was greeted by cheering crowds wherever he appeared. In four speeches here, three tonight and one at a business men's luncheon in the afternoon he reiterated his conception of the great issues which confront the United States. He appealed for principles of progress which would lead to "obscure" men and women of the land, arraigned the "Wall Street interests," which, he said, "seek to dominate" and pleaded for equal rights for all men.

Red Fire Blazes in Fifth Avenue

The president's coming gave the Democrats their first opportunity of the campaign in this city for old fashioned political enthusiasm on a big scale. Torches and red fire blazes in Fifth Avenue as the hosts of Tammany hall headed by Charles F. Murphy advanced upon Madison Square Garden, besieged by a tremendous crowd.

Two hours and a half before Mr. Wilson was due at the historic garden, police reserves were striving vainly to hold back a surging throng seeking places which would make entrance easy after the doors were thrown open.

The seating capacity of the garden had been increased to 15,000 but it seemed after the doors were closed and the last inch of room occupied that the size of the throng outside had not been diminished perceptibly. In the crush about the doors many women fainted. Similar scenes were enacted at Cooper Union. At this meeting special provision had been made for young men not of voting age who had marched in the parade with delegations from Tammany and other Democratic organizations.

Commander Wilson's Policies

Augustus Thomas presided at the Madison Square Garden meeting. The first speaker was Samuel Seabury, candidate for governor of New York. He was followed by William F. McCombs, candidate for United States senator and former Governor Martin H. Glynn. All of them commended the policies of Mr. Wilson which had "brought peace and prosperity."

The Mexican members of the Mexican-American joint commission, accompanied by their wives, occupied seats on the platform.

When Mr. Wilson was recognized as he appeared on the platform, the crowd rose and cheered steadily for thirty minutes. Small American flags fluttered from thousands of waving hands. In the intervals when the din slackened, patriotic airs were sung.

"It would be impossible to say anything worthy of the welcome you have given me," began the president. "I realize that we stand at one of the most serious turning points in the history of the United States. Here and there it has shown men aligned against each other. This will be ominous for the future unless it is checked."

A band outside played "The Red White and Blue" interrupted the president.

"I can't compete with the Red, White and Blue," he said, pausing. "Some one in the crowd shouted: 'We trust you, Mr. President,' and the cheering shouted again."

Fight Against Privilege

The president said the campaign in 1912 represented a fight against privilege and the same was true now.

"I want you to realize," he continued, "that another sort of division has appeared in this country. It is between those who employ labor and those who perform labor. Nothing could be more dangerous. We must see that justice is done to working people. This is not a matter of mere sentiment but a matter of human right."

"There is also another division. Some men have grown so unscrupulous that they have sought to disorder to gain a partisan advantage. Some men have sought to determine the affairs of this nation in accordance with interests outside this nation. What are we going to do with them?"

"Elect you!" a man cried.

"I will tell you what we will have done," he went on. "We have built up a party of the people."

The president predicted victory saying he was not worried over the outcome.

"I do not want to be elected unless I am one of you and you believe in me," he added amid applause.

A vote next Tuesday for Carl E. Robinson will be for a man exceptionally well qualified for state's attorney. The statement means more than the somewhat trite words might indicate. A self made man firmly grounded in principle and with a thorough understanding of the law and furthermore, with high ideals of public service, can so fill the office of state's attorney that the interests of the people will be protected and the majesty of the law upheld.

In talking about the election result in Illinois it is well enough to look up political history. This state has gone Republican in eleven out of thirteen presidential elections. The normal Republican majority in the state is more than 100,000. With harmony so thoroughly established within its party it's a mighty safe bet that the result will be next Tuesday. Every poll made indicates that at least eighty per cent of the former Progressive party vote is once more within the Republican fold.

It has been said that Lincoln J. Steffens, well known writer who made his address on Mexico here Tuesday night, thoroughly approves of the manner in which President Wilson has handled the Mexican situation, especially his relations with Carranza. If Mr. Steffens does think so there was certainly nothing direct in his address which might be construed as approval.

Be that as it may, following the lecture a certain Jacksonville citizen in the presence of others said: "In view of all these circumstances, Mr. Steffens, I suppose you advise us to vote for Mr. Wilson." And this was the reply, "If you want the country permanently prosperous, vote for Mr. Hughes."

One reason that the candidacy of Charles Magill, Republican nominee for county commissioner, is being favorably received is because of the wide spread sentiment that there should be minority representation on the county board. Unless Mr. Magill is elected the board will be constituted solely of Democrats. The feeling is well founded that representation from both parties on a county board is very desirable. Mr. Magill is familiar with county affairs and is a business man who could be trusted to discharge his duties faithfully and well.

Jacob Frisch of Springfield who is Republican candidate for member of the legislature, is a brother of Henry Frisch, well known Jacksonville business man. The candidate for the legislature has been a resident of Springfield for many years and where he is most intimately known is most highly esteemed. As chairman of the board of supervisors of Sangamon county, Mr. Frisch gave to the county earnest and well directed business efforts. He filled the important position with credit to himself and the party. Mr. Frisch is a strong, high class business man who can be depended upon to carry out pre-election pledges. He has stated that if elected he will seek to honestly represent the views and interests of his constituents, with the purpose in mind of being entirely fair to the public and to the state.

About the Tariff Commission. "They (the Republicans) said they wanted a tariff commission," shouted President Wilson at Shadow Lawn "and now they are going to have a tariff commission they are uneasy because they are not going to appoint it."

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

Dull Campaign
I wonder what's the matter! The statesmen rant and chatter, and yell and scream and toot; but no one gets excited, for no one cares a hoot. We're downhearted voters are busy with our motors, for now the roads are grand; we haven't time to harken to statesmen and their barkin' of pearls in this land. The weather's most enchanting, so we go gallivanting, in "sixes," "eights" or "fours;" oh, who would list to yawning, when autumn leaves are dropping, and sunshine's out of doors? Who cares about the issues? Let statesmen spin the tissues of larynx, lung and throat; we will not linger near them, we will not pause to hear them, for here's our choicest prize for this or t'other ism, since autumn zephyrs blow? Our problems may be deeper—but gasoline is cheaper than 'twas a month ago. The statesmen talk and twitter, but where is there a critter who'll list to what they say? The roads are dandy, and the good tin car is handy, and so we drive away.

THIS DATE IN ILLINOIS HISTORY
November 2, 1781—Girardin, a French inhabitant of Cahokia, wrote to Governor Sinclair of Canada that the people of the Illinois villages were heartily sick of the Americans and would gladly accept any opportunity to return to British rule.

Cause they are not going to appoint it." Certainly, they are uneasy because the president is going to appoint it; the class of appointments he has made to important public positions, as instanced by Bryan, Daniels, Redfield, Baker, and most of his diplomatic appointments, indicates that his choice, as usual, will fall on unfit men. The nation has no confidence in his appointments.

It is to be recalled, also, that the country was uneasy when Mr. Wilson's Democratic congress abolished the tariff commission that existed when that congress came into power. At that time the president and congress took the position that no commission was needed.

The Women's Vote.
The Journal made an incorrect statement yesterday in referring to Illinois women as having had part in the 1914 election in which Senator Sherman was chosen. The women of the state have helped decide a number of questions of public policy but did not participate in the state wide election referred to. There are, therefore, no statistical facts for comparison and just what the effect of the woman's vote on the general result in Illinois will be, remains to be seen. Some women will not vote, a great many will be more than likely to be guided by the political affiliations of their male voters, of their families, and still a great many other women will vote as they think best for the interest of the country after a thorough consideration of facts and conditions.

To say that women do not give heed to politics and public affairs is to do women an injustice. There are women who are in imminent interest in these things, just as there are some men, but the majority of them are interested and of inquiring mind, and have an earnest desire to vote in the way which will be most helpful to the country at large.

That Argentine Corn.
It is a noticeable fact that since the announcement of late weeks, the shipment of Argentine corn that the corn market has lowered considerably. True, farmers are still commanding a good price but the receipt of that Argentine corn points to a principle and indicates the serious loss which might result under other conditions. Farmers generally do not relish the idea of having the price of their grain regulated by farming conditions in South America.

Talking about this Argentine corn situation the Prairie Farmers has the following comment:

"According to newspaper reports as this issue goes to press, a million bushels of duty-free corn from Argentina have arrived at Peoria and much more is on the way. Thus the Argentine farmers, who are paying a tariff tax on everything they buy, are denied protection on their own products, but must compete with the cheap land and the cheap labor of Argentina."

"This editorial is not written to favor free trade or high tariff. It is written to call attention to the fact that the farmer is usually made the goat when tariff favors are distributed. It is time we made our voice heard in this matter. If we are to have free trade, let us have it in the things we buy as well as in those we sell. If we are to have high tariff, why not have it protect our products as well as those of the factories?"

The "Kept Us Out of War Myth."

Seldom in the history of any land has a party offered such shallow reasons for its support. Those given out by the Democratic party this fall, "Kept us out of war," "Nobody wants to go to war with us. Two Germans were killed by five Mexicans during Huerta's regime. At once $100,000 and the lives of those five men was the stern and relentless demand. No quivering or cowering was allowed and the money and men were forthcoming and the war with Germany. An Englishman was arrested at Zacatecas. An English man of war happened to be in the harbor at Vera Cruz. Word was sent the commander and instantly he wired, "Release that man, or Vera Cruz is in ashes tomorrow morning." It was done and no war with England. Our people are insulted, our sailors arrested and Mr. Wilson writes a note. But it is not worth while to send an army down there to encounter the Mexican climate and other drawbacks; our soldiers' lives are too precious, say the Wilson supporters and yet more American lives have been sacrificed than were lost in the Cuban war and Mr. Wilson writes a note. Yet the question is farther from a settlement than a year ago.

Contrary to the laws of civilized nations the Lusitania is sunk by a torpedo and many American lives sacrificed and Mr. Wilson writes a note and says virtually, "You should not do that and if you do it again we shall think it unfriendly." The act is repeated and Wilson writes another harmless note and to lay the United States government is held in decision by European nations and jeered at by Mexicans and Mr. Wilson occasionally writes a note and has kept us out of war.

Significant Figures
The Mahin Advertising company of Chicago has concluded a very exhaustive probe into political conditions as affecting the forthcoming presidential election. The company has several hundred investigators in as many cities and the facts secured were from the states of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri and Kentucky.

Each investigator was required to interview ten men who had voted for Wilson in 1912, ten who had voted for Roosevelt in 1912 and ten who had voted for Taft in 1912, and then state how these voters would line up in the present campaign. As a result of this plan 3,002 voters were personally interviewed. The results indicate that of the two pivotal states of Illinois and Indiana the former will vote for Hughes with a heavy majority and the latter with a comparatively small majority.

Of the two typical Republican states of Wisconsin and Ohio, the former will go for Hughes by a comparatively close majority and the latter by a heavy majority. Missouri and Kentucky are typical Democratic states and both of them are conceded to Wilson by heavy majorities.

These estimates do not have any appearance of partisanship and show that, based on these figures, in the six states a total of eighty one electoral votes which went for Wilson in 1912 will go for Hughes in 1916. The vital factor in the result of the election is the division of the former Progressive vote of which Hughes, on the basis of the investigation made, will obtain 82.2 per cent.

Cheap Life Insurance.
A county tuberculosis sanitarium, with its auxiliaries, which will ultimately stamp out tuberculosis in Morgan county, will cost the people of this county an average of less than 30 cents per year. A one mill tax for the first year or possibly two will establish the sanitarium and fully equip it. The most familiar with the question say that the three mill tax possible under the law will not be needed here. Therefore it will require but a fraction of a mill per year to maintain the institution. The benefits of this sanitarium, thru its various agencies, will extend throughout the entire county and protect all citizens.

One-third of all deaths between the ages of 18 and 45 are caused by tuberculosis. This is the record of the past generations. If you vote for the sanitarium next Tuesday you can escape this dread disease, but if you do not, what chance do you have? Tuberculosis is no respecter of persons—your life and the lives of your loved ones are in imminent peril. Tuberculosis is absolutely preventable—we can save these lives that are now being sacrificed thru neglect. Is your life worth 30 cents? Vote FOR the sanitarium.

When Our Flag Shall Be Respected
The colors of a country to citizens are dear. Wherever they are waving 'tis right there be no fear. And our flag means protection, that old flag means a home, And safety for the traveler wherever he may roam. A strong arm should uphold it, a hand that trembles not; A face beneath those colors that will not pale at shot. For if the hand should waver that holds our flag aloft, Then shamed will be our nation, by other nations scoffed. We need a man that's mighty, a man of worth and power, Inflexible and steady to hold it in this hour.

We need a man that's looking into the very heart. Of measures that are passing, and tearing them apart. We need a man of action, such looking into things. That he will find the sources from which the evil springs. Man whose eye is piercing, who'll see beyond his thumb. When this dread war is over, and not be stricken dumb. We're tired of this waiting, of sending little notes; It ought to teach the people the way to cast their votes. One note is worth a million if the spirit which it breathes Will show to other nations we're not upon our knees. We need a man who's loving "America the first," And right demands of others the cannon shell should burst. We need a man who cherishes those colors waving high. And when he says "Salute it," will see 'tis done or die. That old flag speaks our glory because we stand for right. Those bright stars are a beacon to guide us thru the night. But if the hand be trembling, or fearful of the foe, The staff may soon be broken, our colors then laid low. Then all ye men and women who waver in this hour, Best choose a mighty leader to uphold it with his power. Then our flag will be respected upon the land or seas. And our people be protected where it's floating in the breeze. S. Adrain Hughes.

ON THE LAST LAP
As the candidates for President enter upon the last lap of the race the issue that stands out over everything else is the issue of character. Mr. Hughes has the advantage of trustworthiness. There is arrayed against him no long line of witnesses labelled "We used to be his friends but we found we could not depend upon him in the face no long list of broken promises, promises upon which he was elected, promises whose fulfillment the people expected when they voted for him. What Mr. Hughes promised as candidate for governor of New York he performed as governor. You can tell what he will do by what he has done. His deeds square with his words. He does not say one thing today and another tomorrow.

It is easier to be smart than to be straight in the conflict of life. It is easier to be clever than to build character. It is easier in the face of difficulties to side-step than to stand up for principle. The man who sends his son out into the world with the counsel that "a good name is better than great riches," is the man to whom Mr. Hughes has always made a strong appeal. Mr. Hughes "always means what he says." That fact counts above everything else in his favor in the closing days of the campaign. It is the strong, outstanding feature in his character. His reputation of trustworthiness, reliability, sincerity, stability and courage is his best asset in this campaign; it will be one of the Nation's best assets when he is president. His people know he means what he says today. The world will know America means what it says when he is president.

L. PIEPENBRING SELLS EAST STATE GROCERY

August Phalen and Cosgriff Brothers Purchase Store—Will Take Possession Next Week.

By the terms of a deal consummated recently, Louis Piepenbring has disposed of his grocery store at the corner of East State street and Herdin avenue to August Phalen and Cosgriff Brothers and the new owners are to take possession of the business the first of next week. The new firm will be known as Phalen & Cosgriff.

It is the intention of the new owners to completely overhaul the establishment at once; put in a more complete line of fancy and staple groceries, establish a delivery system to all parts of the city and make the place one of the most attractive groceries in the city. Mr. Phalen, who was for five years employed at the A. R. Taylor grocery and for the past few months has been traveling for the Loose-Wiles Biscuit company, will manage the business. Cosgriff Bros. now conduct a large and successful grocery business at their store on West College street their trade having grown month by month.

SALVATION ARMY AITAIL.

A statement has been issued by Capt. I. Heggum and Capt. S. Hitchins, officers in charge of the Salvation Army, setting forth that the army is greatly in need of funds and assistance. Various supplies are needed to aid in carrying on the work. The phone number of the officers is Illinois 50-1342 and if cash cannot be given, the following articles will be gladly received: bedstead, bedding, rugs, carpets, matting, clothing, shoes, stoves, dishes, cooking utensils, baby carriages, washing machines, window shades, curtains, pictures, newspapers, magazines, fuel, food and groceries.

THE SCHOLFIELD SALE.

Good prices were the rule Thursday at the sale of Mrs. T. E. Scholfield, seven miles southeast of the city. J. G. Cox was auctioneer and Fred J. Scholfield was clerk. Luncheon was served by the ladies of Union Presbyterian church. Wiley Todd bought a horse for $200; Prince Coates another for $130 and John Holly a third for $130. Charles Beerup purchased a span of mules for $327.50. Cows brought $51 to $60 and a two-year-old steer brought $49. Oats sold for 47 cents a bushel and oats straw for 28 cents per bale. Some shoats sold for $5 to $11.

THE PARK BOARD.

The park board met last night in regular session and transacted ordinary business. It was decided to lay a new floor on the driveway of the bridge, as the present one is well worn out. The seats and lose parts of the playground apparatus were all ordered brought in and the pavilion closed and the ironwork of the bridge on the playground painted. The matter of deepening the arms of the lake was discussed, but nothing definite was done, as funds will not permit any great amount of expense at the present time. It was decided to secure a lot of forest trees for immediate planting and some more small ones to be ready for use in the future as needed. H. R. Bosley and A. J. Coddling, representing the Miami Valley nurseries, delivered a large number of beautiful flowering trees, shrubs and rose bushes, which will be set out at once and will most beautifully adorn the park.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

The fire department received two alarms Thursday afternoon. The first at 3:30 called the department to the residence of Peter Hamel, 912 South East street. Mr. Hamel had been raking and burning leaves and sparks from the fire caught in the coal shed. The department responded promptly and the blaze was extinguished with but little damage.

The second alarm was at 5:15 Thursday afternoon and was from the residence at 332 East State street occupied by Mrs. John Hillmeyer and owned by the Jacksonville Monument company. The fire had started in an old closet and evidently was a case of spontaneous combustion. No one was at home at the time. The blaze was extinguished with the chemical and there was but little damage resulting.

CARLOAD OF JEFFERYS.

The Jefferys Motor Sales company unloaded today two new Sixes and a Four sedan. These new 1917 models are all up to the minute and may be seen at our salesroom, 312 East State street, Jacksonville, or phone Illinois 432 for demonstration.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDED NEAR WHITE HALL.

Mrs. Edward Silkwood Seriously Injured—Others Suffered Minor Injuries.

White Hall, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Ed Silkwood was badly cut and bruised in an automobile accident at 2:30 Thursday afternoon. Two cars, one driven by Will Ballard of Roodhouse and the other by Attorney H. O. Tanison of White Hall, collided at the turn at the O. B. Roodhouse farm, two miles south of White Hall. Tanison, going south, was on the right side of the road, hugging the corner, while Ballard, going in the opposite direction, was cutting the corner too closely to clear the Tanison car, with the result that they came together, the crash being heard for several hundred feet. The man in the Ballard car were thrown out without injury. Mrs. Silkwood was thrown against the seat in the Tanison car in such a way that her head was seriously cut, and she was rendered unconscious. The other members of the Tanison party were badly shaken up.

Mrs. Silkwood was brought to town in the Fox car for medical attention, and her condition was found to be quite serious, although the scalp was not fractured.

The cars were considerably damaged, both having the front axles driven back under the frame, the fenders and lamps smashed and the bodies dented.

In the Ballard car were G. W. Boyd, Cap. Fields, Mrs. Owdon and another gentleman. The Tanison car contained Mrs. Tanison and Mrs. Melvin Watt.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Party at Home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stice.
Mr. and Mrs. George Stice entertained at a Hallowe'en party at their country home southeast of Sinclair Wednesday evening. There were over 100 guests present, many being from Jacksonville. The evening was spent in dancing and refreshments were served. A large platform extending from the front gate to the front porch had been constructed. The platform was decorated by shocks of corn around the edge and other decorations were in keeping with the Hallowe'en season. Music was furnished by James Powers.

Dinner Party Given By Mrs. C. J. Wright.
Mr. and Mrs. C. Justus Wright of the vicinity of Murrayville most delightfully entertained a party of relatives and friends at a party and dinner recently at the pleasant home a mile southeast of Murrayville. The day was most happily spent and a sumptuous dinner was served and all did ample justice to the great array of good things offered. Those present were Wm. Gilmore and family, Henry Gilmore and family, Roodhouse; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mortimer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Strang and children, William Campbell, Mrs. Martha Masters of Murrayville and Captain and Mrs. J. E. Wright of Jacksonville.

Warren Brown Entertains.
Warren Brown entertained a few of his friends recently at the home of J. A. Rawlings on the Sandusky road. The little folks were taken upstairs, where the rooms were decorated with candles and pumpkins and other articles in keeping with Hallowe'en. Games were enjoyed during the evening and refreshments were served. Miss Aitha Brown of Jacksonville and Miss Hazel James were guests.

Miss Crawley Hosts at Pleasant Party.
Miss Anna Crawley entertained a company of twenty Wednesday evening at her home southeast of the city. Among the guests were the members of the King's Daughters' class of Central Christian church. Jack o'lanterns and autumn leaves were used in decoration. Games, music and fortune telling were diversions of the evening. Refreshments were served.

Oneida Club Meets.
Members of the Oneida club gathered for a pleasant afternoon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Edward De Bauernfeind, on Caldwell street. Excellent refreshments were served. All the members were present as well as several visitors.

Catholic Ladies' Aid.
The Catholic Ladies' Aid society met Thursday afternoon at Mrs. Harry Potter at her home on Gold-avenue. After the regular order of business the members gave themselves to social diversions. A large number were present. The next meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 16, with Mrs. Oliver Cain on South East street.

WOMEN OF STATE INCLINED TO HUGHES

ILLINOIS MAY BE PIVOTAL
STATE IN ELECTION

Miss Vittum Makes Estimate of What
Country's 1,284,613 Voters May Do—Conditions in Kansas and Illinois.

There are a good many political prophets who are saying today that Illinois will be the pivotal state in the coming election and further that the women of Illinois will decide the election in their own state. Thus coming into their national electoral privilege for the first time this year the women of Illinois will figure large in the nation's eye and already considerable attention is being paid them.

Those people who thought the women would not be interested in politics are amazed to see them stirred to a pitch of great excitement in every town, organizing their own county committees, sitting in committees with the men of their districts, holding meetings, speaking, putting up as good a piece of all around work as can be found anywhere among men. Some ward bosses in Chicago who thought it would be necessary to have a card party and furnish ice cream in order to get the women's attention were astonished to find that they would attend a political meeting if a band and good oratory were promised. In fact they have responded to the same political incentives offered to men and wherever the men leaders have invited the co-operation of the women it has been forthcoming.

Women Show Keen Interest.
Miss Harriet Vittum, manager of the Women's Department, Republican National headquarters in Chicago, to the women's vote of the state. In discussing the vote she said:

"This is the first time in six of the western states for women to cast their vote for president of the United States. Everywhere women are taking the keenest interest in the election and there is every reason to believe that they will vote in great numbers. We have figured that women in these states will cast this year about eighty per cent. of the vote of men in the same states at the last presidential election. This is to my mind a most conservative estimate."

"Figuring on this percentage we will have this year a new vote of 1,285,613. This is the largest increase of intelligent voters ever made at one time to the electorate of this country. At the last presidential election there were six states in which women voted. These women cast a total vote of 1,056,512. The total vote of the women now enfranchised is thus somewhat more than two million and a quarter and from that number 500,000 women's votes are expected from Illinois alone."

Poll Made Thru Clubs.
"Some weeks ago in order to find out just where the Wilson votes might be looked for, I determined to make a poll of the women thru the medium of the women's clubs of the state. Club presidents have been most gracious in their response and dozens of clubs from every part of the state have been heard from."

"Taking thirty-five clubs which represent every part of the state and in which 1176 votes were cast, 720 were for Hughes and 458 for Wilson. Nine of these clubs are Chicago clubs and they give Mr. Hughes 206 votes against 127 for Mr. Wilson. In 25 clubs from various parts of down state the vote stands 502 for Mr. Hughes and 266 for Mr. Wilson."

"The Wilsons has kept us out of war cry which has been raised especially to get women, was successful at first, but when the women had a chance to think this over quietly a reaction set in and this strengthened by the published statement of the Judge Advocate of the army who said that "instead of being in peace, we are actually in a state of war."

In Two States
"I believe that in both Kansas and Illinois women will vote in larger numbers than we anticipate, there is the greatest interest among the women of both states and splendid organization work is being done by them. The party leaders are delighted with the way women have gone to work and the ability they have shown. There are many good women leaders, the women's club training is making itself felt. There can be no doubt left in any mind, the women are well prepared for citizenship."

"Mr. Hughes will carry the women of this state by a large majority, I do not believe there is any question of that and we are certain of Kansas, the women out there are solid for Hughes. They are voting for him because of his record as Governor of New York, a record which is impregnated with the highest humanitarianism. He has promised the women of the country if elected he will stand for the Federal suffrage amendment, which means full citizenship for all women. He made certain promises to women when he was Governor of New York and he always kept his promise. The women know this and they have faith in him."

SOME FARM THEMES

A Successful Farmer

L. C. Funk of the north part of Scott county is one of the successful farmers of his vicinity and he lays greatest stress on soil fertility maintenance. He raises corn but two or three years in succession on the same field, has hogs, sheep and cattle to graze on the farm, has a manure spreader which he uses freely, raises clover to turn under and in various ways keeps up his land. He also carefully prepares the seed bed for his corn having the ground pulverized fine and thoroughly. He selects the best seed, cultivates deep once or twice and then shallow, five times in all. This year he says he will have 45 bushels of corn to the acre. He prefers the Reid Yellow Dent as he has had the best success with it.

He has a neighbor, Robert Van Tuyl, who has had about the same success with largely the same methods.

BIG YIELD REPORTED.

The Reynolds Threshing company of the Woodson vicinity have reported some fine yields of oats. "Some yields of oats in the Woodson vicinity were exceptionally good," said C. E. Reynolds. R. E. Meggison's crop averaged 61 bushels and Robert Fitzsimmons' 59 bushels. On the farm of C. E. Reynolds 72 bushels was reported and on the farm of R. V. Meggison there was a 60-bushel yield. A plot of nine acres, belonging to George Meggison, yielded 85 bushels to the acre.

Rock Island Employees Advisor.

Rock Island is the twenty-third county in Illinois to employ a county advisor. P. R. Edgerton having been selected about a week ago by the Rock Island Farm Improvement association to take up work for the association. He is already at work in the county.

Mr. Edgerton was raised on a stock farm in Grant county, Ind., and was graduated from Purdue University in 1906. For the first five years after graduation he farmed in Grant county, Ind., doing extension work part of the time in the winter for Purdue University. Beginning with 1911 he became a member of the animal husbandry faculty at Purdue, still retaining his Grant county farm and managing it himself. The farm has been regarded as one of the best livestock farms in that section of Indiana.

Farmers in Rock Island county have been endeavoring for two years and more to organize an association to employ a county advisor. The organization was completed a couple of months ago with nearly 400 members and since then the officers have been quietly looking for an advisor, finally selecting Mr. Edgerton because he seemed especially well qualified for the place. His specialty, both in teaching and on his own farm has been livestock breeding and growing, and this is the main line of industry of the farms in Rock Island county. Much of the land is hilly, so that it is practically impossible to do much else but grow livestock.

Several other counties in Illinois have practically completed their organizations. Fulton has the required number of farmer members, and Randolph and Vermilion are well along with their organizations. A number of others are partially organized. The farmers of these counties want to get some of the benefits which those in counties with advisors have been enjoying.—Prairie Farmer.

IN MASON COUNTY.

The first alfalfa seed ever threshed in Mason County, was threshed the past week on the farm of John Sanmann, north of Havana.

Mr. Sanmann has been successfully growing alfalfa for the past five years and has been getting remarkable yields. This season he cut better than two tons of choice hay per acre the first cutting off of sixteen acres of sandy land that a few years ago was producing very unprofitable crops.

Last year the alfalfa on this field was over twelve foot growth and again this season almost an equal amount. For this year the third crop was considerable seed and Mr. Sanmann cut small load to thresh and the results were more than satisfactory. The 30 lbs. of seed secured from the 1/4 acre is of choice quality and is prized very highly by Mr. Sanmann who expects to sow it in the spring.

Mr. Sanmann says alfalfa is the most profitable crop he can grow on this kind of land. He states that a portion of this field was seeded five years ago; a portion four years ago and the remainder three years ago and has yielded from 3 to 4 cuttings of choice hay each year. Many of the cuttings averaged one and one-half to 2 tons of hay per acre.

In starting alfalfa a number of years ago, Mr. Sanmann tried a small strip without lime and it too was a failure. But where he used plenty of manure and limestone with good seed bed he has had wonderful success and the returns he has received each year have been very profitable.

Need of Limestone.
The need of limestone in Mason County (outside of certain swamp soils) has been thoroughly demonstrated on hundreds of fields. An application of 2 to 3 tons of limestone is considered sufficient for the average soils altho 4 to 5 tons is much better as the additional amount corrects the acidity much quicker and leaves a good supply of calcium in the soil to be used by the alfalfa.

Farmers that are expecting to seed alfalfa or clover in the spring on land that is in need of limestone, should plan to place their orders this fall as in the fall roads are much better, other farm work not so rushing, the weather cool and the material can be placed on the ground in much less time than any other period of the year. Remember even tho you do not spread the lime this fall it can be piled in piles at the edge of the field where it will be handy for spring use.

Do not make the mistake of seeding alfalfa on sandy land without limestone because alfalfa will not thrive on an acid soil as has been demonstrated time and again in Mason County. When limestone can be delivered at your station for $1.25 to $1.50 per ton and good limed alfalfa ground is producing 4 to 6 tons of hay per acre per year, you cannot afford not to use it. Many have been prejudiced against the use of limestone saying that it is an injury to the land, etc., but this is a mistaken idea and one has only to visit alfalfa or clover fields where it has been used and those where no lime has been applied to see the value of its use.

If we are to grow good clover and alfalfa, we must supply plenty of limestone as it not only corrects the acidity of the soil, but furnishes calcium, one of the most essential plant foods of our legume plants.

Crop Rotation Pays

Big Returns on Blow Sand.
Michael O'Keefe living 5 miles northeast of Topeka produced 21 bushels of wheat per acre this year on "blow-tide" land where a rotation of corn, cow-peas and wheat is being followed. This rotation has proven to be very satisfactory as well as profitable for this land, as other farm crops show. To produce a good corn crop this season on this light sand not only shows that O'Keefe knows how to farm his land but that the system he is following is a practical and profitable one as well. Pure bred corn, improved variety of rye and wheat, a carefully sprayed orchard and a special variety of cow-peas coupled with good farming are some of the things that go to make farming successful on this place.—F. D. Baldwin, County Agricultural Agent.

MISS MILLICENT ROWE IN PLEASANT RECITAL

Modern Poetry and Romantic Drama
Included in Program of Superior
Excellence Thursday at I. W. C.

The school of expression at Illinois Woman's College has reason to feel proud of its work if the appearance of Miss Millicent Rowe last evening in her senior recital may be taken as typical. Miss Margaret Constance, the new director, has since coming to Jacksonville made many friends. In the signal success of a pupil there is for the teacher a deep gratification. Miss Rowe has worked hard and her teacher also, and to judge from the words of friends, the fruits of these labors were in no wise vain. For finished merit, the program could not easily have been excelled.

Following are the numbers which Miss Rowe gave:
Modern Poetry:
The West Wind, Masfield.
The Hero, Tagore.
Songs of Conn the Pool, Davis.
The Shooting of Dan McGraw, Service.

A Romantic Drama:
Mistress Penelope, Marble.
Women of Shakespeare: Scene from The Taming of the Shrew; Scene from Twelfth Night; Scene from King Henry VIII.

The warm welcome which has ever greeted Miss Rowe is the best judge of her art. In every number she was well at ease. Very good is her power of character delineation and she has a voice which seems equally good in the several registers.

In the first group, Miss Rowe had good opportunity to show her versatility at character rendition. So well was each of the poems given that it would be hard to make close comparison. In the minds of some, "The West Wind" and the Klondike sketch of Service showed a superlative touch. "Mistress Penelope" was a charming story of love and war and at no time during the program did the reader show greater dramatic power nor greater intensity of feeling. The Quaker maid and her lover were made to live again.

HANLY SPEAKS AT WASHINGTON, PA.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Thoro preparedness for war will come in the United States only when the nation is dry, J. Frank Hanly, the prohibition presidential nominee, declared today in Washington, Pa., a city forty years without liquor, just before crossing the Ohio line for a night meeting here. As proof of his statement he declared that 65 per cent of rejected applicants to the army can trace their disabilities to liquor.

Ira Landrith, the vice-presidential aspirant, insisted at Altoona and other points, that federal liquor licenses no longer are warranted ever to meet the emergency for which they were created. The U. S. government "went into the saloon business" for the sole purpose of paying the Civil War debt, he said, and that is paid.

COST OF LIVING IN PITTSBURG.

A former resident of Jacksonville now living in Pittsburgh has written a Jacksonville friend of the high cost of living in that city. Prices are said to be even higher than they are in Chicago. Butter sells at 45c a lb.; eggs at 50c a dozen, milk 11c a quart, cream 22c a pint. Meat, potatoes and other vegetables are sold at correspondingly high prices and canned goods formerly retailing at 12 1/2c to 15c a can now sell for 13 to 22c.

SOUTH SIDE CIRCLE.

The South Side Circle will meet today with Mrs. Joseph Jackson at her home on West North street. The leader will be Mrs. Grant Graff and the subject will be a review of history making events of the past year.

Mrs. A. L. Adams and Miss Florence Ward were in Lynnville and Nortonville Thursday in interest of the county tuberculosis sanatorium project.

WISCONSIN PEDAGOGUES IN SESSION

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—Discussions of progress in education are to feature the sixty-fourth annual convention of the Wisconsin State Teachers' association, which assembled in this city today for a three-days session. A large attendance and an attractive program combine to give promise of one of the most successful conventions in the history of the organization. The session was opened in the Auditorium this morning with a discussion of the topic, "A Decade of Progress in Wisconsin Education," led by President Van Hise of the State university.

Other noted speakers to be heard at the several sessions include Mme. Maria Montessori, originator of the Montessori kindergarten method; Dr. John B. Finley, State commissioner of education of New York; Dean L. D. Coffman of the University of Minnesota, and Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Fund for the Advancement of Teaching.

BALTIMORE TO VOTE ON SALOONS

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 2.—Among the voters of Baltimore the presidential and senatorial contests have almost been lost sight of in the keen interest manifested in the referendum vote that is to be taken on the prohibition question. There are more than 1200 saloons and hotel bars in Baltimore and the city's revenue from liquor sources is more than $1,000,000. Twenty of the twenty-three counties in Maryland are already wholly or partially dry. Tuesday the voters of the remaining three counties, in which are located the largest cities of the state, will vote on the question. So far as Baltimore is concerned the betting odds are in favor of a wet victory, 2 to 1. The liquor interests, however, do not intend to become the victims of over-confidence, as is evidenced by the fact that these interested in the traffic are pursuing a vigorous and expensive campaign to defeat the proposal for prohibition.

HOW IS YOUR LIVER?

A good liver—active—is the most important need of physical condition.

It has long been recognized that the liver plays one of the most important parts in the general condition of the system. When the liver is out of order the whole system appears to be out of order. Headaches, indigestion, constipation, biliousness, malaria, and jaundice all are easily traced to an inactive, sluggish liver. If the liver then is corrected and restored to normal activity the general health of the body must improve. It is a good thing to remember.

GOOD SAMARITAN LIVER PILLS

These liver pills represent the highest type of medicinal perfection because they are tonic and vegetable—thus they are active and restorative and safe to take. We highly recommend these liver pills to all sufferers with liver trouble. Price 25 cents.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE

STABBED

Milton Angier, high school student of Beardstown, who will be remembered here for his wonderful work with the javelin last spring in the interscholastic and Western Illinois High School meets on Illinois field was severely stabbed Tuesday night.

Angier had been to Virginia, returning on the B. & O. train about 10 o'clock. He stopped at the Davis drug store in Beardstown and in company with Paul McDowell, a clerk in the store, started home about 11 o'clock. A short distance out on Monroe street they were attacked by three boys. McDowell shortly after the fight started ran, but Angier knocked two of his assailants down and was getting the better of the argument when one of them stabbed him in the breast and right hip.

He was able to reach his home where his family on learning of his condition summoned Dr. Bley who gave him attention. Angier lost considerable blood and was in a weakened condition. At first it was feared his injuries would result seriously but it is probable that he will soon recover. Angier says his assailants are three youths named Pendergast, Snodgrass and Swan.

CIRCUIT COURT
TERM SOON TO BEGIN

FRIDAY IS THE FINAL DAY FOR SERVICE

Docket Shows About the Usual Number of Cases Have Been Filed. Court Convened Nov. 13 With Judge Creighton Presiding.

The docket for the November term of the circuit court will be completed today as this will be the final day of service. Judge Creighton will preside at this term of court which will convene Monday, November 13. From information received by Circuit Clerk Pratt it is apparent that Judge Creighton intends to begin almost as soon as court convenes with jury trials. This means that the business of the court will be pushed forward rapidly.

The docket also not quite complete, indicates that the average number of cases will be heard. In the list of cases filed there are twenty two criminal, forty nine law and 134 chancery. In addition to the cases listed below the docket includes the various suits filed Wednesday and which were mentioned in yesterday's Journal. They were: Farmers State Bank of Ashland vs. Ora Holmes; W. B. Groves vs. Wabash R. R.; W. B. Groves, administrator of the estate of Ellen Groves and as administrator of the estate of Mrs. Mary McSherry vs. Wabash R. R.; Iven Mueller vs. Wabash R. R.

In this last mentioned case which was filed by Paul Samuel, the statement was made that damages in the sum of $400 were asked whereas the suit is for $100,000. Personal injuries are alleged caused by an explosion of powder in the Wabash yards at Bluffs.

The only suit filed Thursday was one by Worthington, Reeve & Green on behalf of S. Schulz against J. Cohen & Son. This is an action in assumpsit for alleged indebtedness of $2,000. The cases docketed are as follows:

B. H. MERRILL DIED IN TALLULA THURSDAY

End Came at Home of His Daughter After Long Illness—Funeral Here Today.

Benson H. Merrill died Thursday morning shortly before 3 o'clock, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Vivian Mathew in Tallula, where he went last April to spend the remainder of his days. He had been in rather delicate health for a number of years, though he had not been confined to his bed more than a few weeks.

Mr. Merrill was born in Youngstown, Ohio, May 16, 1835, and was the son of Aaron and Electa Wright Merrill. He came of good, sturdy stock and received the best advantages his parents could afford him. He left for the west in 1853 and at first located in Indiana, where he remained for some time and in 1870 removed to Concord, this county, where he stayed six months and then moved to Chapin, where he conducted a general store for a number of years. He then moved on a farm a short distance east of Chapin, where he remained a time, and in 1891 he came to Jacksonville, which was his home till last April.

In this city he conducted a real estate and loan business for a number of years in partnership with his son, George, but failing health compelled him to give up business a number of years ago.

January 12, 1860, he was married to Miss Mary E. Smith, with whom he lived most happily until April, 1914, when she was removed by death and since that time he has been fortunate in having the loving care of dutiful children, who have done all in their power for his welfare and comfort.

He was the father of four children, George L., who was a successful attorney, real estate dealer and abstract maker and who died not long since; James, a respected citizen of this city, residing on West College avenue; Vivian, Mrs. Mathew, of Tallula, and one daughter who died in infancy. He also left six grandchildren.

Mr. Merrill was widely known and respected as a successful business man and one of integrity and fair dealing. He was many years a resident of this vicinity and had a wide circle of acquaintances and friends who knew and honored him.

The funeral will be conducted at the residence of his son, James, on West College avenue at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, in charge of Rev. R. O. Post, D. D., pastor of the Congregational church. Interment in Diamond Grove cemetery. The remains are expected in the city on the 10:20 a. m. train on the Chicago & Alton road.

DR. TANNER SEEKS BROAD-ER FIELD IN HIS WORK

Believes On Lecture Platform and In Industrial Work He Can More Effectively Point Out Meaning of Real Christianity.

The reasons given by Rev. Allen A. Tanner for his retirement from the ministry to devote his time to a study of industrial conditions are more fully set forth in an article in the Denver Post. His resignation was made in order that he might have a broader field for work in his efforts to teach simple Christianity and the practice of love as taught by Christ. The Post said:

The Rev. Allen A. Tanner, pastor of the First Congregational church and director of the People's Tabernacle, yesterday resigned both positions in order to enter a wider field in the spread of his belief that the church of today needs to get closer to the people and closer to the industrial conditions of the country. On the lecture platform, in pulpits and thru writings, he hopes to revive the law of love in the churches. Freedom from a regular charge is sought that he may have time both closer to study conditions and give his convictions a wider range.

Twelve years ago Dr. Tanner put on overalls and went into the factories, working side by side with wage earners, that he might gain their point of view toward religion and the church. Such studies he may resume from time to time, but more specifically his object in quitting his charges is to work among the churches and religious people, arousing them to the need for closer imitation of Christ in His work and teaching.

"My retirement from the ministry will probably be only temporary," Dr. Tanner said. "I may return to it at some future time. In the meantime I intend to devote my time to lecturing and writing. I wish to be teaching in as wide a field as possible the one truth which the world certainly needs above all truths. That Christianity is simply the study and practice of the law of love as taught by Christ.

"I especially desire to study the teachings of Christianity as applied to industrial conditions and to study the church—not to discover what is the matter with it, for I know that—but to find out what specific changes must be made to meet the social conditions that we must face after the world war. This war has proved conclusively that present day interpretations of Christianity have failed. The priests of Europe have failed to teach the law of love and the church must either change to meet the problems of humanity or quit.

"It is not my contention that the church is an utter failure. It has suffered from an invasion of commercialism that is weakening its power and it preaches above the heads of the people. These conditions must be remedied or the church will have to abdicate."

ERNEST CLYDE LEWIS WEDS MISS PETEFISH

Ceremony Thursday Evening at the Home of Bride in Litchberry Unites Two Well Known Young People—Will Live Near Prentice.

Miss Evalene Petefish became the bride of Ernest Clyde Lewis Thursday evening at 6 o'clock in a pretty ceremony, said by the Rev. Ivan W. Agee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron W. Petefish of Litchberry, the bride's parents. The young people were unattended. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Lorene Deweese of Jacksonville and before the wedding services Miss Wilma Crum sang "O Promise".

The ring ceremony was used, the bride wearing a ring which had been worn by her mother thirty five years ago.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Petefish and has always made Litchberry her home. Her circle of friendship is a wide and extensive one and she is well deserving of the many words of congratulation she will receive. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis and is engaged in farming near Prentice. He is a young man of industry and character, upright in all his dealings and faithful as a worker in Berea Christian church, of which he is a member. He and his bride will reside on the family homestead near Prentice, his parents having recently taken residence in Ashland.

The wedding ceremony was witnessed by one hundred and twenty friends and relatives. Rev. Mr. Agee who, with Mrs. Agee was present from Litchfield to unite the two young people in marriage has six times officiated at the wedding of members of the Petefish family. He is a former Litchberry pastor and Thursday evening was assisted by the Rev. C. G. Cantrell, present pastor of the church at Litchberry.

Miss Petefish was attired in a gown of white silk, with chiffon over dress, trimmed with lace. She wore a white tulle veil and carried bride's roses. The ceremony was solemnized beneath a bower of ferns and autumn leaves.

A luncheon was served, twelve young people of the bride's acquaintance assisting in the dining room. Chrysanthemums were used in the decorations throughout the house and in the dining room a pink and white effect was secured.

A large wedding cake was cut and the tokens were received as follows: ring, Miss Ruby Molohon; needle, Miss Ruth Wheeler; dime, G. A. Dunlap and thimble, Floyd Martin. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left by auto for Springfield, beginning a wedding trip of several days. They will be at home to friends after Nov. 15.

The guests present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Petefish, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Fayre Wilson and Mrs. M. C. Petefish, of Virginia; Miss Grace Abingdon, of Vandalia, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. C. Riggs Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Litter, Misses Helen, Grace and Ruth Wheeler, Miss Ava Bryson and Miss Ruby Molohon, Jacksonville.

ANOTHER NEW LOT OF SUITS WILL BE PUT ON SALE TODAY AT HERMAN'S.

WINCHESTER

Winchester, Nov. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Ellis and son Myron and Clarence Ellis of White Hall were guests of friends in Winchester Thursday evening and attended the Methodist church supper.

Mrs. W. E. Coultas was hostess to sixteen young women Thursday evening in honor of her daughter, Miss Ruth Coultas. The occasion was the sixteenth birthday of Miss Coultas and was for her a complete surprise as she was away from home when the guests arrived. After luncheon had been served the young people went to the Lyric for an enjoyable evening.

Charles Burns of Alsey was a business visitor here today.

The ladies of the M. E. church gave their annual chicken pie supper Thursday evening from 5 o'clock to 8. A large crowd attended and an excellent menu was furnished.

Miss Martha Woodington, who has been quite ill at her home here is much improved.

The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades will give an operetta November 17. The play will be given at the grade building and will treat of colonial life.

Miss Olive Wells, a teacher in the high school, is detained at home on account of illness.

The annual meeting of the Scott county teachers' association will open Friday and it is hoped that Winchester people generally will attend the sessions, the first of which will be held at the grade building this forenoon at 10 o'clock. The afternoon session will be held at the grade building and there will be a meeting tonight at Winchester Christian church.

CROSS ROADS.

J. H. Scott and Henry Reese were in Jacksonville Saturday and heard Hon. J. Hamilton Lewis speak at Armony hall.

Miss Sarah Reese visited her parents here Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Clarence Sheppard, a daughter, Berenice and Marjory, spent a day recently with her aunt, Mrs. Lucy Scott.

Earl Hembrough was a Jacksonville visitor Sunday.

Miss Annah Hembrough has returned to her school duties after a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hembrough, near Cross Roads.

CASE HAS BEEN APPEALED.

An appeal has been filed in the supreme court by James P. Barber in the case against the Ayers National bank and E. J. Henderson. At the May term of the Morgan county circuit court the case was decided against Mr. Barber and an appeal has been filed by Masters & Masters of Springfield, Mr. Barber's attorneys.

THE GENUINE ORIGINAL ROUND OAK IS STILL SUPREME

This precisely expresses the condition existing in the stove world when the original Round Oak stove was invented and produced by P. D. Beckwith, more than two generations ago.

Witness the fact that thousands of the genuine Round Oak stoves are sold yearly. These are identical in construction with the original, although modernized in dress.

We invite the opportunity to demonstrate their sterling worth and real superiority.

POINTERS IN STOVE BUILDING

Note the construction of the base — the manner and fit of the door. Ask us why we use a double fire pot. Discover why no clinkers can form in this stove. Test the Boiler-Iron body. Examine the fitting.

Then let "genuine goodness" determine your choice.

The Round Oak has been the standard for two generations and is still conceded to be the stove supreme. Come in and see it. Burns all fuels.

To further acquaint our customers with the knowledge of the famous Round Oak stoves being added to our extensive lines of high grade Home Furnishings, we will include during the next ten days 1000 pounds coal with every Round Oak Heater.

Why We Sell Smith and Davis Steel Beds

You read steel bed advertisements yet you may never have heard of a Smith and Davis bed.

Smith and Davis Beds were among the earliest make—the writer of this "ad" has sold them for fifteen years with never a complaint. What other bed has such a record?

The finish is the best—the construction is unequalled—the guarantee is absolute.

The price is less than the advertised makes. The bed is better.

The Smith and Davis Spring at $6.00 is better than advertised makes that sell for $8.00.

This is not an "ad"; it is a plain statement of absolute truth. We have the proof. If you want value—not advertisement—see these beds.

The Player-Piano that is all but human is played beautifully by anybody who loves music because its expression is controlled from the pedals. Each pedal stroke does not merely make certain notes strike but it makes them sound with the exact volume and accent which your musical feeling desires. The force and style of the stroke are transmitted from the pedals to the piano strings as the striking of the artist's fingers is transmitted from the keys to the strings. It is as if the performer were in direct contact with the piano action, so sensitive is the Manualo mechanism to his subtlest wish.

Come in, try this remarkable instrument and get the book, "The A B C of the Manualo."

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Some Things As They Used To Be.

By Ensley Moore

Member Marion State Historical Society.

It seems a good while ago that the little boy came from Perry to Jacksonville.

Things were certainly very different at that time, here, from what they are today.

There was one or two merchants—only—who then ran a delivery wagon, and it was a long journey, two or three, or even four times, occasionally for a boy to go down town in hot or cold weather, and get things for this house. Fortunately the good man of the house had acquired the bad habit of rising early, and he generally went to Lambert's shop somewhere about five o'clock a. m., to get the meat. It paid to go early then, as the best meat was to be had; and the shop would be shut up at noon.

Shopping.

The house provider used to have to go around the Square, sometimes asking the merchants, "Have you got any eggs?" or "Any butter, or any chickens?" Chickens were then fifteen cents apiece or two for a quarter. After the war they got up to a quarter apiece. And, now? Well, "you know how it is yourself!" Butter was from the country, no creamery, and sold for six to fifteen cents, probably. Turkeys were not then "up in a balloon" as to price. In season prairie chickens were to be had. There were very few, if any, imported fruits except oranges and lemons. These were often not too fresh, and cost higher than today. The stores did not do much "window dressing," and such an alluring exposure of clothing goods or of appetizing dainties as we now see was not thought of. The store buildings were not so elegant as those of today. The best were those now occupied by Cassell on the north half of the west side of the Square, and Chambers block, on the east half of the north side of the Square.

Stores.

Robert Hockenhall had, in 1857, just opened his nice block of stores on East Court street, one of which was occupied by Trabue and Chambers, grocers.

On East State street, just east of the Square, south side of the street, were several new stores, in which Spates and Upham, Ratekin's and Simmons, and others sold goods.

Yates & Berdan had their law office over the one nearest the Square over the room where Swales now repair people's eyes.

Many, or all of the dry goods stores, in these days, sold groceries as well. And those articles of food were not so carefully handled as now. Bags were not then thought of to wrap in, and some very cheap paper was usually used. Very few things were sold in original packages. Baking powder was one of the first things then to be sold in cans.

McConnel's Terrace.

If family shopping was an early day pain to the boy of the house, there were alleviations, which he could utilize as boys will. Teachers how to play were not then needed.

Capt. John L. McConnel then lived in the house, part of which still is left, between his father's house and what is now Snyder's ice plant, on North Main street. His house was on high ground, and it was terraced up by a brick retaining wall, curving pretty sharply down about five feet to the brick sidewalk. The frontage of the McConnel lot was pretty wide. So it was the regular trick for the boys to run up to the edge of the fence, on the brick walling, and then run along the top of it to the other end. It required considerable skill in balancing and sure-footedness, and, of course, was an achievement. And "Burt" Maury, or Sam, Anderson or Squire Henderson, if they remember, doing the trick.

The Depot.

There was only the old Washab depot on North Main street then. So it was going to or from it that the boys ran up on McConnel's wall. It was great business to go down and see the cars come and go, twice a day, each way. The name of the road then was the "Great Western Railway of Illinois," and it had only a year or two before been extended east of Decatur. The west end was at Naples.

There were only two "busses" going to the station then, to haul passengers; and, as they belonged to the hotels—"Mansion House" and "Ayers Hotel"—there was much rivalry between the "runners." A. G. Hocking began public life in that way. "Ayers Hotel" was on North Sandy street just back of where the "Douglas" is now. The "Dunlap" was opened in 1858, and its resplendent new bus, just like a city one, was all that a boy could ask for. It was really a beautiful vehicle.

Saturday.

Saturday was then the great business day of the week, and the farmers came in with their small produce, and got their supplies, and met each other, and talked politics, and got their weekly "Sentinel" or "Journal," and the mail; for "rural delivery" had not then come. The fence around the park, as we now call it, was crowded, on all four sides of the square, with horses, mostly attached to wagons. For carriages and buggies were scarce then. Many people still came to town on horseback.

1857.

The year 1857 was not a notable one to anybody, until toward its close, along in the latter part of August, or in September, when the "Panic of 1857" broke over the land.

It was no light affair, and many a business man and real estate speculator "went to the wall." It ran its slow course, aided by the miserable paper currency of the day almost to the beginning of the war.

This paper money was called "wild cat" owing to its unreliability. It would scarcely keep its value over night. It was an experience in those days to start on a journey with only the treacherous stuff to travel on.

Many people derided the "greenback" which the war developed, but that was something one could travel all over the country on.

Such are a few reminiscences of the days before the war.

DR. PALMER TO SPEAK AT COURT HOUSE TONIGHT

Noted Authority On Public Health Who Addressed Large Audience Here Last Year, To Talk.

Dr. George T. Palmer, of Springfield, president of the Illinois State Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, and a recognized authority on public health matters in the state of Illinois, will address the citizens of Jacksonville at a public meeting tonight at the court house at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Palmer appears under the auspices of the Union Parent-Teacher association of Jacksonville and the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis League, and will touch upon the need for a County Tuberculosis Sanatorium in the course of his address which will deal with matters of public health in general. Dr. Palmer has charge of the Springfield Open Air colony and of the dispensaries in the capital city and his talk will be full of interesting illustrations and anecdotes.

Citizens of Jacksonville will recall with pleasure the visit of Dr. Palmer to this city about a year ago, when a special banquet was given in his honor by the Chamber of Commerce and more than a hundred representative citizens heard one of the most inspiring addresses on public health matters ever given in this city.

The Illinois College Glee Club quartet will give a half-hour program of songs and instrumental music interspersed with humorous selections at the beginning of the program at 7:30.

This quartet has recently been touring the county in behalf of the tuberculosis sanatorium proposition, and has been received with enthusiasm in all of the towns and cities in the county. The boys have an interesting repertoire of popular selections. Other special numbers will appear on the program at the court house, and the public is invited to be present and enjoy the meeting.

A luncheon in honor of Dr. Palmer will be given by the officers of the two societies under whose auspices the meeting will be held and their invited guests. The luncheon will be held at the Peacock Inn at 6 o'clock sharp and will be quite largely attended.

ADJOURNED A. H. T. A. MEETING.

Reports from the state convention at Beardstown will be made and several candidates will be initiated at an adjourned meeting of the Anti-Horse Thief Association, which will be held at the court house Saturday afternoon.

HIROHITO IS CROWN PRINCE OF JAPAN

Courtly and Solemn Ceremonial Took Place at Tokio—Imperial Banquet at Palace.

Tokio, Nov. 3.—With mystic rite and courtly pomp which recalled the historic ceremonies attending the consecration of the Emperor Yoshihito last year, Hirohito, eldest son of Yoshihito, was today formally installed as crown prince and heir to the throne.

Prince Hirohito was proclaimed heir apparent in 1912, after Emperor Yoshihito ascended the throne upon the death of Emperor Mutsuhito. But the formal celebration of his installation as crown prince was reserved until today, the birthday anniversary of the illustrious Mutsuhito, whose death is still lamented by millions of Japanese subjects. On this date, also, the reigning emperor was proclaimed crown prince. Furthermore this is the prime of the beautiful Japanese autumn, the ideal season of the year, when the gorgeous chrysanthemum, the crest of the Japanese imperial house, is seen in all its glory.

The Shinto Ceremony.

The feature of the celebration today was the Shinto ceremony early in the morning conducted at the sanctuary of the "Kashikodokoro" or sacred mirror. The emperor, crown prince, princes of the blood, ministers of state and many other high dignitaries were present in the sacred hall of the imperial palace—and a religious service was solemnized according to the Shinto ritual. When the chief ritualist had repeated a Shinto prayer, Emperor Yoshihito read an address announcing the installment of Prince Hirohito. After this another ceremony was held in the state room of the palace, where the imperial family accepted congratulations from the officials of the court and government. Notable among the well wishers, also, were the ambassadors and ministers of the powers, including George W. Guthrie, the American ambassador.

On this occasion the emperor conferred upon the crown prince a sacred sword called "Tsubokiri-no-Tsurugi," which had been handed to the emperor by his imperial father at the time of his own installation as crown prince. At the same time the crown prince was promoted to the rank of captain in the army and lieutenant in the navy.

At noon, an imperial banquet was given in the Homei hall of the palace, the emperor and empress partaking of the feast with a distinguished company including the diplomatic corps. The emperor delivered an address and the feast was accompanied with classical Japanese dances and both ancient Japanese and modern western music, played by the artists and musicians of the court. Each guest was presented with a beautiful silver commemorative medal.

Celebrated Thruout Empire. The day was celebrated thruout the Empire. The Tokio municipality called an extraordinary meeting of the city assembly and sent a congratulatory address to the emperor and crown prince. Similar greetings were forwarded by both houses of the Diet. Great arches decorated with chrysanthemums were visible in front of the imperial palace and the crown prince's palace, with profuse electrical illumination at night. National flags and beautiful paper lanterns were above all doors, even the most humble. The streets were gay with color. The tramways were festooned with the imperial flag.

The mayor, aldermen and officials of the municipal board as well as thousands of school children were assembled on the streets outside the imperial palace grounds and along the streets from the crown prince's palace and greeted with a mighty banal the future emperor as he was driven to and from the historic ceremonies.

Tonight the various civic corporations and guilds will hold lantern processions. They will march to the imperial palaces to salute the present and future monarch.

In a few days the crown prince, accompanied by a specially appointed retinue will start on a tour of pilgrimage to the great shrine at Ise, the mausoleum of the first emperor, Jimmu Tenno, and of the late emperor Hutsuhito and the tombs of the Emperor Ninkaku, Ninko and Komei at Nara and Kioto.

Prince Hirohito is 16 years of age. For several years Admiral Togo, the great naval hero of the Russo-Japanese war, has had the direction of his education, which has been thoro and which continues vigorously.

ILLINOIS OFF TO MEET WESLEYAN TODAY

Harmon Hopes To Take Game In Easy Fashion—Last Game Before Great Game At Decatur Next Week.

Illinois College plays Wesleyan at Bloomington this afternoon. The Illinois squad 19 strong expected to leave on the 6:40 Alton this morning for Bloomington.

While Coach Harmon would make no prediction as to the size of the score, yet he expects Illinois to win by a comfortable margin. However, this he does not expect to be accomplished without a hard fight. Wesleyan always fights hard against Illinois. Last year Illinois won by a score of 21 to 3. It is not believed that Wesleyan is as strong this year as last. However, Wesleyan held Lombard to a 7 to 0 score a few weeks ago and the Lombard score was not made until the last minute of the last quarter. A team that can hold Lombard is likely to make any team play to beat them.

Coach Harmon has been drilling his men hard for the game as it is the last one before the Millikin contest. Harmon does not expect to pile up a big score but expects to make enough points to win. He hopes to do this without showing many plays but in case he has to show all his repertoire he will do so in order to win the game.

The same lineup will be used that has been used all season except that Helme will play at right half in place of Whisler. The team probably will lineup as follows: Frisbie re, Conklin r, Strickler rg, Valentine rg, Russell c, Zink lg, Mitchell lt, Rendleman or Kieffer lb, Wilson q, Helme rh, Pierce lb, Jones or Spink fb.

The following telegram sent out from Bloomington may be taken with a grain of salt. Neither of the men is a star. Whitesell probably is the better of the two but the loss of both men will not seriously weaken the Wesleyan Squad.

Wesleyan's Hopes Drop.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 2.—Wesleyan's football hopes took a big drop tonight when the suspension of Hurst and Whitesell, football stars, was announced. The suspension dates from tonight and continues for two weeks, keeping them out of the game with Illinois College, Jacksonville, this week. Four other students were also suspended for hazing.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Give Fruit Laxative At Once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue. Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "Fruit Laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile, and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company,"—Adv.

J. H. S. IN HARDEST GAME OF SEASON

Play Peoria Manual on Illinois College Field—Game Will Start at 3:15—Each Team Lost One Game.

When Jacksonville High trots on Illinois field this afternoon to play Peoria Manual they will face the toughest proposition of their schedule. This is said to be unmindful of the game with Beardstown high which comes a week from tomorrow.

Peoria Manual until two weeks ago was regarded as a contender for the championship honors of Central Illinois. They were regarded as equal to Springfield which with Manual had not been defeated. However, Manual bumped into Urbana and lost by a score of 13 to 20. It was one of the upsets of the season as was the defeat of Springfield by Champaign.

Manual, however, staged a great comeback after their defeat by Urbana and on last Saturday defeated University High by a score of 40 to 7. The visitors have a heavy line with Springfield at quarter who is a great open field runner and an expert forward passer. Knaus at full back is heavy and fast and as a line plunger is regarded as one of the best high school backs in the state.

Coach Hufford has been working his squad hard the past week in preparation for the game. The local line has been drilled to meet the plunges of Knaus and the end runs of Springfield. While the locals will be outwitted in the line Coach Hufford is of the opinion that his men will offset the weight handicap by agility and getting the jump on their opponents.

The forward pass has been one of the main things that Coach Hufford has been drilling into his men. With the pass perfected and the end runs of the two Reynolds and the line plunging of Hull the locals hope to spring a surprise on the distillery boys.

The game will be called at 3:15 sharp. The tentative lineup of Jacksonville will be as follows: Ferguson, I. Holen lt, Johnson lg, Fitch or Molohon c, Arter q, King rt, Firke re, Reeve or Green q, Howard Reynolds lb, Homer Reynolds rh, Hull fb.

Comparative Scores
The comparative scores of the teams are herewith given and will prove of interest to fans. Each team has played five games and lost one. Peoria has scored 224 points as against 151 by Jacksonville. On the other hand three more points have been scored by Peoria's opponents than have been made by Jacksonville's opponents. Peoria has a total of 43 points scored against her while 40 points have been scored against Jacksonville. The games and score follow:

Manual 95; Normal 3.
Manual 57; Peoria Central 0.
Manual 19; Pontiac 13.
Manual 13; Urbana 20.
Manual 40; University High 7.
Totals 224; 43.
Jacksonville 59; Waverly 0.
Jacksonville 6; Alton 26.
Jacksonville 14; Rushville 5.
Jacksonville 43; Carrollton 6.
Jacksonville 29; Waverly 2.
Totals 151; 40.

ARCADIA

Quite a number attended the public sale of J. J. and C. E. Clark last week. Things sold at fairly good prices. Horses sold as high as $122.50; one cow brought $71; brood sows with pigs sold from $25 to $40. The M. E. Ladies' Aid cleared about $16 on their lunch.

The Odd Fellows' annual oyster supper which was to have been the 3th of November is postponed indefinitely on account of several cases of scarlet fever in the neighborhood.

C. L. Neill is moving to the Clark farm where he will spend the next three years.

Miss Schofield spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Jacksonville.

N. E. Neill is the owner of a new Ford car purchased from O. L. Crum of Litterberry.

R. R. Rudisill and family spent Sunday with relatives in Concord.

D. G. Henderson and family and H. W. Dinwiddie and family took a fishing trip Saturday to Clear Lake.

Dr. A. E. Obermeyer and family made a trip to Winchester Friday in their Case car.

Clyde Rudisill is working with his brother in Virginia this week.

The farmers who have began shucking their corn report a very poor yield this year.

Allen Joy, a leading business man of Chicago, is visiting his brothers, Charles B. and Lyman Joy of Joy Prairie.

FARM PROPERTY

To settle the estate of the late Henry Kitner, we're offering a family homestead of 320 acres just at the edge of tech city, and one mile east of Nichol's Park and three-fourths mile from the car line. The land has been in the Kitner family since 1850, and is one of the best known farms in the county. It is a combination black prairie and timber edge land, that is as productive as land can be. This farm is thoroughly drained with plenty of fencing for every convenience. There is an excellent house, with adjacent out buildings, with barn and shed sufficient for the farm, large corn crib and implement shed, stock shed and in every way a complete ready made suburban farm home. We are privileged to sell this farm in tracts to suit the purchaser. It is arranged for two 160 acre farms, each with a one-half mile frontage, a public road. We have not before had anything more desirable to offer our patrons.

Why I Am for Hughes

By JAMES H. BRADY

(United States Senator from Idaho)

Charles E. Hughes will be elected President, and the Republicans will regain control of the Senate and House of Representatives, because:

The people of the United States are fully awakened to the danger that will confront them when the war in Europe comes to an end. They know that, when that hour arrives, this country, more than at any other time in its past, will need a protective tariff law, adequate to keep from our markets the flood of abnormally cheap products which Europe will have to sell.

The American people know that after the war Europe will and must produce a large surplus and must market it, for Europe must have cash and can only get it thru trade. They know that the United States, which has grown rich at the expense of the war-ridden countries abroad, presents the most attractive market in the world—the market that will be most sought. And the American people further know, as they learned by experience before the outbreak of war, that when the products of Europe and of other countries where labor is cheap and hours of work are long, come pouring into this country without restraint, that American products will again be displaced, employment will diminish and wages go down. They do not want a repetition of the times of two years ago.

A protective tariff alone stands between the American farmer, the American laboring man and the competition he must meet, not alone from Europe but from the Orient. The Democrats will never pass a protective tariff law; they will not make serious use of their newly created tariff commission, for they say a protective tariff is unconstitutional and, holding that view, they cannot utilize properly facts developed by a tariff commission. The President and the Democratic convention at St. Louis endorsed the Underwood bill and, that being their attitude, they cannot be expected to favor at any time the enactment of a protective law. Only the Republicans, if given full control of the government, will enact such a law, and that is the first thing they will do after the 4th of March next.

The people today are fully aware that only a Congress can enact a tariff law; they realize that a tariff commission cannot legislate; that it cannot change an existing tariff law in any particular, but can only recommend. And of what value will be the recommendations of a tariff commission to a Democratic Congress and a Democratic President who believe protection is unconstitutional.

We want an American merchant marine. This marine must be established if our new industries are to maintain their prestige and their products are to be carried to the markets of the world. We now enjoy a monopolistic market. As soon as the war terminates we shall have a competitive market and a greivous one and a merchant marine, together with a protective tariff, offers the only possible avenue of secure economic conditions for our American people.

We want a foreign policy that has a meaning and purpose in it, that will be strong enough to be respected at home and abroad, that will absolutely safeguard, as our diplomacy under past administrations has done, the lives and the property of all American citizens at home and abroad, on land and sea, and that, too, without any equivocation or delay.

The Mexican situation should be cleaned up promptly. We owe to the republics of America the leadership in establishing substantial and serviceable governmental conditions in Mexico, and this should be absolutely devoid and free from every possible suspicion of any play to any parties in interest or any contemplated interest, and concessions or properties in Mexico. In other words, capital flowing into that country from the United States should have its opportunity to work there as it works at home and citizens of this republic, invited there or received there under statutory law or international treaty, should be just as secure and comfortable there as they are at home.

We want a vigorous Americanization policy established in this country, and a navy that will command the respect of the world and give us the protection under which it will be possible for us to work out an adequate preparedness, an intense spirit of loyalty to this country and amalgamation of its diverse population into a solid coherent, unified body of American citizens.

These things, both from the services rendered by the Republican party, from the days of Lincoln until now, and the assured conviction that Mr. Hughes would vigorously and effectively carry such a policy to a higher and more honorable issue, amply justify earnest and sincere citizens in giving to him in this crisis their earnest and unreserved support.

STANDARD BASKET LAW

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The so-called standard basket law enacted by the last Congress goes into effect today, providing for a uniform standard in size for all baskets and containers used for small fruits, berries and vegetables in interstate commerce. The effect of the act will be to require the use of the standards in manufacturing, sale or shipment for all interstate commerce, where the containers are filled or unfilled. A large part of the traffic in fruits and vegetables in this country enters interstate commerce. The law relates only to the containers and will not affect local regulations in regard to heaped measure or other method of filling.

SUGGESTION TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. You can get it just as Mrs. Maxwell did. She says:

"I keep house for my little family of three and became completely run-down. I was weak, nervous and could not sleep; finally I was unable to do my house-work. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and improved rapidly. It toned up my system, I regained my strength, and no longer nervous, sleep well, and do all my house-work." Mrs. J. C. Maxwell, Montgomery, Ala.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body-building and strength-creating tonics.

So many letters like the above are continually coming to our attention, that we freely offer to return the money paid for Vinol in every case where it fails to give satisfaction.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY IS FEDERAL BANK REPORT

Statement Made From Chicago for the Seventh District—Conditions In Various Lines Summarized.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—The report on business conditions in the Seventh Federal Reserve Bank district issued recently was as follows:

There is a continuing activity strongly in evidence in this district and this applies to practically all lines. The banks have funds in ample supply for all legitimate demands, interest rates are low and the country communities have shown themselves able to care for their own requirements to a great extent. The demand for loans to finance the crops has been smaller than in some years, and there is some hesitancy shown by the farmers in the matter of purchasing live stock to feed owing to the value of corn and fodder in general. Manufacturers and merchants have so far been able to derive satisfactory profits from their outputs and sales, but the rising cost of raw materials may cut into their earnings unless a proportionate increase can be added to the selling price and even this would have a tendency to decrease volume. Labor is well employed and this produces an ability to buy freely. An excellent fall trade is anticipated in almost every line, with a shortage of certain materials coming more and more into evidence. The lack of transportation facilities is commented on by a number of our correspondents, and in some industries the supply of labor is deficient.

Crops in this district have shown no real change during the past month, but the general outlook for those communities dependent on the soil is favorable owing to the prices that can be realized on their grains. The principal interests in this line at present are the fall plowing and preparations for the winter wheat crop. Illinois is reported to have assigned a large acreage to winter wheat, which is practically all in the ground, and the prospects for this crop so far as can be estimated at this time are good. The frost in September damaged the corn crop and there will be some soft corn as a result. Indiana should have a satisfactory yield of corn due to the market value of this grain. Dry ground has interfered with fall plowing, but the acreage of winter wheat should prove equal to if not slightly greater than last year. Iowa has enjoyed generally favorable weather, and its crops should prove fair in quantity and better than normal in the way of returns. Fall plowing is nearing completion and the wheat acreage, particularly in the southwestern part of the state, is said to be larger than last year. Michigan shows no change in the matter of this year's crops. Advantage has been taken of some favorable weather to plow and seed and the acreage of winter wheat appears to be somewhat larger than normal. Wisconsin has had some cool weather and the acreage of winter wheat sown to date appears less than normal. Potatoes are in short supply.

Agricultural Implements. Conditions in this line have not altered to any extent since our last report. The sales of farm machinery are not up to normal, which is to some extent accounted for by the fact that the farmer has not adjusted himself to the higher cost of the year in this line. The usual slackening up is evidenced by the decrease in new commitments, and one authority is of the opinion that production is catching up with consumption. Collections are good.

Building and Building Materials. There is some decrease noted in building construction in Chicago, presumably caused by the increased cost of materials. The building of apartments is said to have been overdone in Chicago. Workmen's homes are still being erected in considerable numbers in some of those centers which have received a great influx of artisans during the past two years. Cement has been in good demand, but users have been subjected to considerable delay on account of the shortage of the car supply and the difficulty in securing the labor necessary for packing and unloading. Collections are good. Brick manufacturers report increasing sales, with September ahead of the corresponding month last year, and the prospects that October will show a like gain.

Coal. There is a great activity in this line, with constantly advancing prices, and it is believed that the shortage of railway equipment and the difficulty in securing labor will continue to restrict the output in spite of the increasing demand for coal. There has been a strike in Western Indiana coal fields, but it is anticipated that matters will be satisfactorily adjusted.

Distilling and Brewing. Business in this line is better than last year with good prospects despite the prohibition agitation. Breweries have enjoyed a prosperous summer owing to the general and continuous employment of labor at better than average wages, and the malting companies report a demand both for export and domestic use which is maintaining their plants at fullest capacity.

Dry Goods. Business gains seems to have been general among our correspondents in this line, and the fact that goods are going at materially advanced prices does not appear to have affected the demand. Collections vary in accordance with local conditions and prompt payment seems to be the rule. The wholesaler have been booking orders for spring delivery with gratifying results. This is attributed to the desire of the retail merchants to place their orders before any additional increase is made in the price of merchandise. It is a more or less speculative situation, as goods are being bought on a basis of 15 to 17 cent cotton and wool at corresponding values, but it is necessary that the retailer keep his stocks full owing to the increased power of the public and its disposition to buy.

Furniture. Manufacturers seem satisfied with the existing conditions, the volume of orders is fairly well maintained, and collections are good. The metals goods values have increased the cost of production to a considerable extent and there is evidence that purchasers are exercising conservatism in their commitments.

Grain Markets. The prices of grain have been firm, with a large foreign demand and an American wheat crop considerably less than last year. The reported impairment to wheat in the Argentine is another element in the market situation and higher prices are looked for unless the Russian supply can be distributed through the opening of the Dardanelles. Oats and corn are in good demand and show moderate advances over last month.

Groceries. Wholesalers report an unusually heavy demand for merchandise, especially in the line of canned goods, and difficulty in securing certain lines. There have been material advances in sugar, flour, potatoes, tomatoes, etc. The increased prices do not appear to have cut down the volume, and collections are fair. The collection situation is to a certain extent governed by the difficulty farmers are experiencing in moving their grain to market and also by the fact that fall plowing is under way. One of our correspondents writes that the necessities of life will be higher this winter than at any time in our history. On the whole, the grocers are enjoying a larger volume than last year.

Hardware. Manufacturers are finding difficulty in supplying the requirements of the trade and in some cases are unable to make prompt shipments. Wholesale houses report a good demand with high prices in many lines. A generally prosperous period is anticipated, and collections are usually prompt, although local conditions control payments and these naturally vary.

Leather. The leather industry has been extremely active, with large bookings of business, and a strong demand both from domestic and foreign buyers. The raw material market has been very strong and it is difficult to tell how long the condition will continue. In leather belting there is a little slowing down, which is considered temporary, and conditions are looked upon as sound with greater conservatism in evidence in the purchase of merchandise, machinery, etc.

Livestock and Packing. The demand in all lines of provisions has been strong during the past thirty days, and we are advised that stocks have been somewhat depleted. Heavy packing of livestock is reported, principally, hogs, but the supply has been liberal and the price declined slightly over thirty days ago. In general the livestock situation is the same as last month, with some evidence that more cattle have been placed on feed in this territory and that a large hog crop is to be expected.

Lumber. This business, which is dependent to a large extent on building operations, has shown a decrease during the last month and there is some tendency toward lower prices. The requirements of the railroad and car manufacturers are reported as less than normal. Collections in this territory are satisfactory. It is reported that a good supply of lumber is being required by country towns, particularly through Iowa.

Mail Order. The gain in this line continues, and the merchandise distribution through the five states in this district is reported as ahead of the corresponding period last year.

Pianos. Favorable business conditions are reported in this industry, and the principal question appears to be the ability of the factories to take care of their orders. Labor conditions have been trying, and materials are in short supply and at high quotations. There is some threatened labor trouble reported. Collections are said to be good.

Shipbuilding. This business continues active, and some of the companies in our territory report business on their books which will keep them engaged through 1918. The repair work connected with the heavy carrying trade of the past year has been brisk, and the lake shipbuilding companies report that some of their construction is for the salt water trade.

Steel. Full capacity production is reported by the mills in this territory and the bookings in some cases extend through the third quarter of next year. There is said to be a heavy foreign demand and a number of manufacturers in this country, who are dependent upon this material, have been compelled to order their requirements in spite of the prices which are now asked.

Watches and Jewelry. These lines are active, and their best season should be within the next two months, due to the holiday trade. An increase in business is generally looked forward to by authorities in these lines.

Wool and Woollens. The raw wool market has attained to greater activity and to higher prices during the past month. It is reported that manufacturers are covering their wants more freely, evidently in the belief that the wool manufacturers are troubled to some extent by a shortage of labor, but the demand for goods is substantial at an ascending scale of prices. It is expected that the volume of business and values will be maintained for some time to come. Collections are good.

Clearings in Chicago for the first 19 days of October, 1916, were $1,281,900,000, being $297,400,000 more than the corresponding 19 days of October, 1915. Clearings reported by 19 cities in the district outside of Chicago amounted to $297,900,000 for the first 15 days of October, 1915. Deposits in the eight central reserve city member banks in Chicago were $698,000,000 at the close of business October 20, 1916, and loans were $476,000,000. Deposits show an increase of approximately $26,000,000 during the past month, and the loans an increase of approximately $21,000,000.

EUROPEAN WAR NOTES

Berlin, Nov. 2.—By Wireless to the Associated Press.—Via Sayville.—Fort Vaux on the Verdun front, was evacuated by German troops on the night of November 1-2, in accordance with prearranged plans, according to an official announcement today. German military leaders indicated they considered the sacrifices involved in its retention out of proportion of its value in the present strategic scheme.

Athens, Tuesday, Oct. 31.—Via London, Nov. 2.—Delayed.—"The Austro-German offensive in Transylvania appears definitely to have arrived at a stop," declared N. N. Filodor, the Roumanian minister to Greece, today to the Associated Press correspondent. Every day that we are able to postpone disaster we grow stronger and our opponents weaker. The fact that General Falkenhayn seems to have been replaced by Archduke Charles Francis on this front can be taken as showing that even the German general staff realizes the failure of the attempt.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—By Wireless to Sayville.—Altogether 24,200 bags of mail from Germany and 16,820 bags destined for Germany were confiscated by the British and French authorities from December, 1915, to the end of September, 1916, says the Overseas News Agency. The news agency asserts that only a small part of the seized mail was afterwards redispached to its destination. The seizures as given by the news agency follow:

From Germany to the United States on Dutch, Danish and Norwegian steamers, 17,110 bags. To Spain, Portugal and South America, on Dutch and Norwegian steamers, 6,225 bags. To the Dutch Indies on Dutch steamers, 865 bags.

To Germany from the United States on Dutch, Danish and Norwegian steamers, 13,857 bags. From Spain, Portugal and South America, on Dutch and Norwegian steamers, 2,438 bags. From the Dutch Indies, on Dutch steamers, 525 bags.

London, Nov. 2.—During the course of an interview with the Associated Press correspondent today, Major General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office, was asked what he thought of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's statement that the entente allies could not break thru the western front in thirty years. General Maurice replied:

"Our recent offensive was not designed to break thru. Its purpose was to relieve the pressure on Verdun and kill as many Germans as possible. I will not undertake to say whether it will take thirty years to get the Germans out of France, but the allied strength constantly is growing while the German strength constantly is declining. "It is no doubt true that the Germans in recent fights have been short of ammunition. During the winter, with its short days, limiting the use of artillery, they will be able to replenish their stores, but, despite the bad weather, we have no intention of letting up on them. "Our offensive will continue thru-out the winter when conditions are at all favorable."

Berlin, Nov. 2.—By Wireless to Sayville.—Combats in the Carpathian passes are being carried on with extraordinary rage. The Roumanians at the eleventh hour are trying to bar the gates of Wallachia by the engagement of rapidly concentrated reserves, says the Overseas News Agency. Mighty trenches north of Predelal as well as positions at Azurga which consist of permanent works completed several months ago, including trench systems, wolf traps and barbed wire defenses, were partly crushed by the cannon of the advancing German and Austro-Hungarian army groups or were hurriedly outflanked.

South of Azuga in the Toemoser pass as well as south of Toesburg, the troops slowly march ahead against Campulung, says the agency, which adds:

"These mountain battles are being fought thru terrains filled with snow and made impracticable by rains, between ravines and on snow covered summits. They require the utmost energy on the part of the commanders and troops and belong to the most difficult but at the same time most glorious exploits of this campaign."

BIDS ASKED

Sealed bids will be received by the city of Jacksonville at the office of the city clerk up to 10 a. m. Monday, Nov. 13, 1916 for 10,000 square feet more or less of concrete sidewalks in East State street, as provided by ordinance duly passed by the city council August 14, 1916. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

R. L. Pyatt, City Clerk.

BIKES COLLIDED

Two bicycle riders collided in West Court street in front of Barr's laundry about noon Thursday. Both riders were knocked off their wheels but were not hurt. One of the bicycles had the tire torn off and the rim broken and was taken to Myrick's for repairs.

ONLY A MILD CASE

E. G. Saye's little son who is suffering with scarlet fever has a very mild type of the disease. Mr. Saye says they have hard work to keep the invalid in bed as he feels so little sick he wants to get out and play.

COUNT FIFTY! PAINS AND NEURALGIA GONE

Instant Relief! Rub This Nerve Torture and Misery Right Out with "St. Jacob's Oil."

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right into the sore, inflamed nerves, and I guarantee no get. . . N. . . hiet and like magic — neuralgia disappears. "St. Jacob's Oil" conquers pain. It is a harmless "neralgia relief" which doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Don't suffer! It's so needless. Get a small trial bottle from any drug store and gently rub the "aching nerves," and in just a moment you will be absolutely free from pain and suffering.

No difference whether your pain or neuralgia is in the face, head or any part of the body, you get instant relief with this old-time, honest pain destroyer—it cannot injure—Adv.

LAWLER MURDER CASE SOON TO BEGIN

Great Interest Centers Around Proceedings Which Are Closely Linked With Politics.

Huntsville, Ala., Nov. 2.—With the date for the commencement of the Judge Lawler murder trial only ten days distant, this city and county are in a state of feverish excitement in anticipation of the court proceedings that are expected to clear up the mystery surrounding the most remarkable series of sensations ever experienced in Alabama politics. Although there has been no hint of mob violence, counsel for the three defendants have intimated that they will request military protection for their clients when they are arraigned for trial. The same precaution was taken during the grand jury investigation that resulted in the indictments.

The three defendants are David D. Overton, Charles M. Nalls and Percy Brooks. The crime with which they are charged in the indictments is the murder of W. T. Lawler, probate judge of Madison county. Overton is accused as principal and the two others as accessories. All three defendants are well known. For many years Overton has been one of the most powerful politicians in the county. Nalls has served as clerk of the circuit court and Brooks is a prominent farmer of Whitesburg.

The case had its beginning in the Democratic primary election of May 9, in which Lawler was unsuccessfully opposed for re-election as probate judge by Overton. The first sensation came with the empanelling of a grand jury to investigate the election, which was said to have been reeked with fraud, and the reported action of the grand jury in finding more than a score of true bills against Judge Lawler and recommending his impeachment.

Crime Recalled. Judge Lawler was murdered on the night of June 14, and his body, weighted down with railroad iron, was thrown into the mouth of a deep creek that flows into the Tennessee river at Whitesburg. An anonymous note to the sheriff said that if the creek were dragged something of interest would be found, and this led to the discovery of the body three days later.

The discovery of the murder and its subsequent developments startled Alabama from end to end. The first of the sensational developments came just a week after the murder, when Shelby S. Pleasants, prominent member of the Huntsville bar, and co-assistant district attorney, whose name is said to have been brought into the case, committed suicide in his office. Two days later, Sheriff Robert Phillips committed suicide by shooting himself in the head at the jail and left a note saying he could not stand the shame of being accused of connection with the case.

The murder and the supposed plot for that end were searchingly investigated for a week by a special grand jury. The result was the indictment of Overton, Nalls and Brooks. Nalls and Brooks were immediately arrested and have since been confined in jail. Overton, however, disappeared soon after the murder and was found only recently in another state after weeks of diligent searching.

Many Theories Advanced. In the absence of facts numerous theories have been advanced as to how the murder of Judge Lawler occurred. One theory is that Judge Lawler, having been indicted several times and his impeachment recommended, he had been summoned to testify against Overton, and on the night of June 14 entered into a conference with Overton with a view of patching up their differences. They had a fight, it is said, and Lawler was shot to death; then Overton lost his nerve and hid the body, calling Nalls and Brooks to aid for this task.

Another theory is that Judge Lawler was lured to the court house by Overton and his accomplices, then kidnapped and taken to the bridge over the creek leading into the Tennessee river, ten miles from the city, and murdered at leisure after he had refused to sign a paper exonerating Overton.

Overton's friends and relatives claim both these theories are wrong and that when he appears in court he will be able to establish his innocence.

In the meantime the public has continued to speculate over the mystery surrounding the suicides of Pleasants and Phillips. So far as these two are concerned, no one had thought seriously of the rumors that they were involved in the murder, and nothing has developed publicly since their death to implicate them. There are rumors, however, that the names of other men of prominence are likely to be brought up and this is one of the reasons that the approaching trial is anticipated with intense interest.

THE MYSTERIOUS FOE

A Series of Stories About Some Illinois Men, Women and Children. Issued by the Illinois State Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis

Beulah is at the age when girls often begin to think about the boys. She has happy day dreams of her future in which gallant young men shower attentions upon her. Sometimes these dreams center about a little, cheery vine-clad cottage where she will reign queen of her own happy, love-lit household.

But her dreams, in all probability, never will come true. The happiness which has come to many of her older friends is not for her.

It is almost certain that the tender love messages she so ardently longs for, will never be delivered.

Strolls along shady paths, short but exciting little boat trips, brief excursions into the beckoning forests, with the lover of her choice, will not be written in Beulah's history.

Why is it that she is to miss so many of life's little pleasures to which every girl is entitled when she reaches the proper age?

It is, Dear Reader, because Beulah has been marked for slaughter by Bandit Tuberculosis and his tribe of cutthroat followers. You can see now the visible signs of this monster's deadly desire.

It has not been so many years ago that Beulah's mother was painting mental pictures of the happy things in store for her baby.

The pictures were about the same as Beulah's day dreams now.

She didn't realize that in so brief a space of time her daughter would be stricken with the most deadly and most prevalent of all preventable diseases.

If she had, we know that she would have thrown more safeguards about Beulah. When she, herself, was first stricken with tuberculosis, she would have been very careful to protect her family from the danger had she only realized there was danger.

There was no sanatorium for the care of the tuberculous in the vicinity and shortly Beulah's mother died and now, Beulah, who cared for her mother lovingly during her illness, has the disease herself.

And that is the reason why this girl who, a few years ago gave budding promise of hopeful, helpful, happy young womanhood, has been robbed of her heritage and the community in which she lives must share the responsibility because it failed to see the need for a tuberculosis sanatorium.

POINT SCHOOL IS FORTUNATE IN LOCATION

Miss Sallie McKinney is Teacher This Year—Good Equipment Provided.

Not always easy. It is said the only man in the house of representatives who can't speak is called the speaker and the most irregular space in the city of Boston is called Dock Square. So probably if a man were told of the Mound or the Point and had no other directions he would look a good while for those places but if you told him to travel out by the State School for the Deaf, by the new Maplecrest sanitarium and follow the road a few miles he would come to the crest of a gentle declivity from which he would have a grand view which for beauty and utility combined would be hard to equal anywhere in the country. This is popularly called "the mound" tho it is a bit of a misnomer but any man who owns property in that vicinity may well be proud of his possessions.

Then, follow the road till you are five and a half miles from Jacksonville and you will come to a place where a second highway begins and travels directly south and in the west angle you will find a church which is a credit to the neighborhood, a school, and this is the Point. The directors of this school are Messrs. Raymond Vasey, David Coultas and Charles Middleton and any man who says they have neglected their duty in any way must have been examining things with a microscope for the unaided eye would have to roam around pretty thoroughly to find any defect. Noble trees adorn the playground, the exterior of the building is in good repair, a melodious bell in a tower summons the pupils to their tasks while within all is pleasant. The teacher, Miss Sallie McKinney, doesn't mean to let the directors do all the adorning and she has added much inside. Let it be known that all visits are unannounced so that no special preparation is possible. About the windows pretty ornaments have been placed but for fear of making no mistake which would cause a lady to smile the writer will not try to be too minute in his description suffice to say a handsome bling of colors in streamers has been used with good effect. A good number of pictures adorn the walls and the pupils may at any time see the features of Washington and other great men. The teacher has prettily decorated calendars for each month and a circle for each day of the month and each circle is shaded to indicate what the weather was that day. Many other articles like this are a stimulus for the pupils and an education in good taste. The library is supplied with reference books and other volumes and is good. A modern heating plant has been put in and works well. The pupils were orderly and much interested in what was said to them and very much gratified their visitor by a number of questions at the close of his talk. Their conduct was pleasing throughout. The pupils are:

Louise Middleton.
Gordon Vasey.
Elvira Richardson.
Harry Killiam.
Jaunita Coultas.
Ivorne Coultas.
Willard Owings.
Thomas Owings.
Mildred Middleton.
Wilma Richardson.
Charles Owings.
Earl Gunter.
Gertrude Wilson.
Robert Vasey.
Alice Gunter.
Pauline Smith.
Eloise Patterson.
Clarence Gunter.
Edna Patterson.
George Vasey.
George Wilson.
